MESSAGE FROM JOHN THE BELOVED

God bless you, my students, I am John the Beloved.

God continues to touch you, and brings the Light that shall grow ever brighter within you, my beloved beautiful souls, who are earnest and understand the truth. Yes, you belong together in fellowship, you are meant to have this fellowship amongst yourselves. Do not let any negative forces stand in the way of this, beloved beautiful souls. You must pray together and if it is difficult for you to pray together, take that time together in synchronicity and pray together from your homes. For when you do this in harmony, when you acknowledge the fellowship and the strength of your prayers in unison, and speak of the soul's longing together, you bring a Light to this world and to yourselves which can heal, and bring peace, and change the events of this world, my beloved beautiful souls.

Negative forces would have you regroup and plant within your minds – when you are vulnerable – negative thoughts. I ask you to be vigilant and to be consistent in your prayers and your thinking to bring Light, to bring positivity within yourselves, to acknowledge the love that resides in you and to allow this to be your guiding Light, to beseech your Heavenly Father to surround you in His loving care and Light and presence, and in this way you will know joy and you will find it easy to cooperate together in this way in prayer and in deed and in thought.

Indeed the Heavenly Father does have a plan for each of you my beloveds ... to allow you to work in service, to walk this Divine Path, as His channel and emissary of Love ... His proof to the world.

Indeed now you walk in Light and you affect many souls though you are not aware of it, nonetheless, this does indeed happen as you walk the world. And a great deal of this work is done in this quiet way. And some is more overt, and some requires sacrifice and a deep desire to follow the Will of God.

Clear away your doubts and your fears, clear away all that obstructs you from this outpouring of Love into the world. What is so sorrowfully needed in the world, the flowing out of Love – will dissolve the darkness and the negativity which threatens to overcome and overwhelm humanity with great grief and strife.

And each one of you is precious in the eyes of God, and each one of you who steps forward and says to your Heavenly Father, I am willing my God, I am willing to do this work, to act as your instrument of peace and Love, you shall be mightily blessed and the blessing of the Pentecost which you have beseeched your Father to receive will be given in accordance to your willingness to be in alignment with your Heavenly Father in His great Love. Be open to this and walk in the Light of the Father's sure and guiding Grace.

Each one of you has a gift to share with the world, each one a precious soul, each one worthy, each one in Light. You will walk upon the path that you are destined to take, beloved souls. Do not falter, but be comforted that God has you firmly in His grasp and will lead you on to greater work and wondrous, miraculous, joyous work of Love.

God bless you and keep you and heal you and carry you to the heights of loving communion with the Father. I love you, I am John the Beloved and I love you, precious souls. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM CONFUCIUS

(laughs) I am here, Confucius. I see my little birds have flown south for the winter....and have been greeted with sunshine and sunshiny faces and love. (laughs)

Yes, my beloveds, you have prepared a place of Light – a beautiful welcoming and as you pray, as you pray for the Father's Love in this place and you pray earnestly, and consistently, and often – as you nurture your souls through these prayers, as you nurture one another through your loving embrace – you are building Light, you are creating a node of Light in the world and this place may be a place where people are drawn. Souls are drawn to this Light and we in spirit will assist you with this effort to create Light in this world to create a place of peace and nourishment, and healing.

And these places of Light are needed all over this world, my beloveds. As they become more plentiful, then this will influence the conditions of your planet and make change within the physical nature of this planet, will make change within the souls of each inhabitant upon this world, even the creatures of this world and this is our plan, my beloveds, to create nodes of Light.

And our two instruments, our emissaries for this plan – as you all shall be emissaries in your time – to help transform this world from a place of chaos and darkness, of upheaval and negativity to harmony and Light, of peace and harmony among the creatures of this world, the lands, the waters, the air, all of God's creation is meant to come into harmony that it shall sustain all that is here. All of God's creation upon the planet shall be sustained and each creature including God's most wondrous creatures will live in a way that is harmonious – will be nurtured by the planet and shall give back to the planet. This is what is meant to be in this world. A world that sustains itself in love.

And yes, you are like explorers venturing forth in a new way and you yourselves are changing with each day and learning and growing in your souls. And in this exploration you will bring waves of change and influence and the planet Earth and God's hand rests upon you, my beloveds and the angels walk with you and guide you and lead you upon your journey.

What is required of you is to be open to God's Will, to not allow your minds and the forces that are negative to interfere with this, but to have the focus upon the Light and to feel the momentum of God's Love, of His river of Love carrying you in the world, and every day is a day of learning and testing, of understanding and growing and loving. And the lessons which you learn in this world, in your lives, will carry you far into the world of spirit. The legacy that you create for yourselves is powerful indeed and shall bring you to high places within the world of spirit when your time comes to pass to this place.

But it does require your effort, your discipline, and your faith. For the explorer does not venture forth unprepared with his map and his understanding of what he must do, and that burning desire within him to venture forth, to explore, to glean the new experiences, to study the landscape, to walk the Earth in wonderment and love.

God presents to you a new world, a different world, a different way, a wondrous journey. And with the eyes of your souls and with the passion deep within, this is an exciting adventure full of surprises and experiences unanticipated and the opportunities to meet other souls.

My adventurers, carry on in your trek to God, and we shall walk with you, at times showing you what lies before you, at times protecting you from the pitfalls, but at all times bringing Light and love into your beings and consciousness. How blessed you are, my beloveds, to walk this path and to take this journey and to know that God guides you along the way. Precious souls, prepare yourselves for the most wondrous journey of your lives and your footfalls shall be sure and each one blessed, each day something new, each moment a prayer to God for His Love and in gratitude for His blessings. (laughs) Jesus loves you, my beloveds, (laughs) be strong and be brave and have faith that God guides you. God bless you, God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM ANDREW

God bless you, my beloveds, I am Andrew.

How many days have you prayed for the Love, my children? Seeking for Love, Nourishment and succor from God... And how many times has your Heavenly Father responded to your prayers and placed within you this blessing of Love? And how many more prayers shall there be in your hearts and souls to receive this great blessing? The prayers shall be infinite, the blessings shall go on forever and you will know greater life within you, and the change that is wrought within you will be permanent and pure and good. For you are redeemed children of God and you shall reside in the Celestial Heavens, my brothers and sisters, and we shall all be as one family in the Light of God's Love and joy and peace and the supreme ecstasy of this communion and fellowship.

Though you see yourselves as so very human, it is good that you do not feel burdened by these conditions for they are temporary and without true bearing upon your path. Walk the Path Divine with every day and the burdens that you carry shall be lightened until they fall away like feathers upon the wind.

Yes, we shall walk this Path to God and know His sweet embrace and feel the relief from your pain and your worries, your cares and your fears. The sweet embrace shall bring you the peace that passes all understanding and fill you with love and knowing how truly beautiful you are, how loved you are, how precious you are, my beloveds.

My beloveds, be at that place of Light, have compassion for yourselves, have compassion for your brothers and sisters, for everyone on this world carries a burden, everyone struggles, everyone has a need to be loved. And you my dear and precious souls have found the source of peace and strength. Do not release this knowledge or turn your backs from this, but embrace it more fully with each day and allow the scales to fall from your eyes and the error to drift away like smoke on the wind and God's Love will do the rest.

Do not concern yourselves with the errors that you perceive in others, for God will guide them to truth. God's Love will bring truth within them and it is not for you to correct or reprimand or feel a distance and a judgement, but to love one another as best you can, as fully as is possible, to walk that road of Light, to be that person whom God created you to be, to seek the highest and know that in this seeking all good and all lessons will come to you. And as you walk this road many will come to you for succor and comfort and But do not fear this, do not place your hand in front of you and say, I do not wish for you to come to me. Instead open yourselves and embrace that beloved soul and in doing so you do God's work.

In giving you receive, in loving you are loved, in being strong and sure and in the Light of truth you become an example for all. Nothing shall impede you, my children, with this desire and attitude. And God will use you each day to be a channel of His Love for some dear soul, for many dear souls of this world. And in many ways you will not notice or see the impact, for this will not be immediate in many cases. It's subtle and powerful, planting seeds, giving truth, giving love, being open and accepting, being with your Heavenly Father and receiving His Love. Such simple rhythms to follow, yet for many so difficult.

The choice is always yours, my beloveds, the choice is always yours. And God does not condemn you or blame you when you turn away from Him. He awaits patiently, lovingly and is joyed when you turn to Him, when you commune with Him, when you are in that Light of His soul presence. This is always available to you my children. It shall always be and the road to eternity shall be walked in Light and joy, love and happiness, peace and truth.

We're so happy to see you all together in joyous friendship, for how you help one another on the road with your smiles and your love and giving and your receiving, for how the Light builds, how the truth glows within each one of you. Yes, the angels are glad that you have found one another and God's hand has reached out to bring you together. Embrace all the souls you have met – embrace them all, love them all. Be humble, be kind, be generous and be loving.

God bless you and keep you in Light. Your friend and brother Andrew loves you dearly. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

Beloveds, I come and I bring my blessing to you, my beloveds. And I bring my blessing to your home and I bring my blessing to every footfall you make. Every day upon this Earth will have my blessing, for you follow me and I guide you and I will be with you always, always. Know this, know this. And when you struggle with the world know that I am with you. When you attempt to love another, know that you do my work. When you bring truth to the world, know that you do God's Will. And in this you are in the Light, you are in life and you are blessed, blessed in a greater way than many upon this Earth. Follow the road that is meant for you, my beloveds, and it will be wondrous and joyful without strife or worry with joy and happiness, beloveds, with all that touches you deeply within your souls – let this be so, let this be so. God bless you, your brother and friend Jesus is with you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM GOLDIE

(laughs) ... a precious circle of daffodils all around you. I'll put daffodils in your hair along with this one (meaning Al is bald ☺), I have to put it behind his ear! (laughs). Yes, you are so loved, you are so loved. Be happy that you are loved. God is with all of us. Whatever you do God is with you, God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM MOSES

The world of man is coming to an end my beloveds, being replaced by an era of God's Grace. And you are all in transition, the world is in transition. Remember this as these changes come within you and within your lives and within this world. Remember that you have chosen the era of God and His Grace to usher this in and to be an instrument for this great change and shift. And you need to be strong and fervent in your prayers and know that the one thing that will carry you through is your faith. For God will guide you and show you the way beyond the illusions of man to the reality of God's creation and laws.

Pray for the Love to open your eyes to show you the truth, to bring you what you require, to help the lost souls into the Light. It is a noble work and it is necessary and you will be joined by many in this great work as time passes and changes ... and the old crumbles and the new emerges in miraculous and wondrous ways, beyond your imaginings. Before the end of your lives there will be great change, and when you look back you will be well pleased at how you were a part of this wondrous healing of your world.

God's Will is all about you and within you my beloveds. Do not falter, be strong, and of faith of love of truth. I am Moses, and I love you.

MESSAGE FROM SERETTA KEM

God bless you, this is your Helper, Seretta Kem.

May your souls continue to flourish in the Love for in this, a great blessing, is a great balancer of your bodies and spirits, minds and emotions. As this Love flows in, so the fluctuations which occur on a daily basis within your beings, and the many conditions which you encounter during the day in the earthly conditions, the influences of spirits influence your consciousness. What you experience during the day are ameliorated by the Love of God.

And when you experience imbalances within your physical systems, when there are great changes of hormonal fluctuations and chemistry within the body, it is important to note that you will have within you corresponding reactions within your emotions, within your consciousness, within your spirit. For all of these systems are interrelated and require balancing and nurturing. To be moderate in diet, to attend to your feelings, my beloveds, to acknowledge what you feel. And when those feelings are not what you would want, to give them up to God and to ask God to heal you. To replace anger and other difficult feelings, with His Love. And God will respond and will bring you the healing that you request. And your part in all of this is to choose the Light, to reach for the Light, to long for that Love to heal all within you. For the power of God's Love is great and all encompassing. It will bring peace within so that when the disturbances of the body manifest you are not swept away and enveloped and pinned down by these difficult conditions.

Walk in Light, my beloveds. Ask for God to heal you each day. To bring Light, to bring peace, to bring harmony and balance within you, to pour His Love within your soul so that the great Light, that powerful healing agent may work its wonders in your beings.

So often when that kernel of anger and hurt and judgment is within you it is reinforced by negative influences of the world. And you allow this to happen when you indulge yourselves in these feelings. And they are reinforced and they do indeed bring you to a lower condition spiritually. So discipline is required. And an understanding within yourself as to what is happening and the desire to reach for higher things in your thoughts and in your feelings.

You are not a victim of your feelings, your emotions. You can control these things. This is what one does when one matures. To allow the feeling to pass. To acknowledge it and let it go. And to allow Love to take its place. We who guide you and are with you each day are indeed there to help you with this process, to give you strength, to remind you that you may indeed be in control of the situation rather than the situation control you. That you are centered in God's Love and God's Grace and in this way you may move through all the conditions of the world. And when you encounter those who would fling barbs and hurtful thoughts and deeds in your direction, that you do not feel the pain of this, merely to respond in compassion and love. Yes, you are human and this is difficult. Yet you have working within your being something that brings you from being human to being divine. Do you not wish to encourage this, to allow this process to manifest on every level of your being? To walk in Light and Love. To be that individual that you long to be that is quite accessible. It is there. You are there within your beings. But you allow your mind free reign and you indulge yourself in negative thoughts and feelings at times. And I do not say this in the form of reprimand or for you to feel guilt, but to bring to your awareness, to remind you that what you truly desire within your souls is Light and peace and harmony. And in order to accomplish this, you need to choose this. And to let go all of that which is not in harmony with God's Love. And to be cognizant each day and each moment, that it is a choice. And you are capable in walking in the Light always, if you so choose. And God and the angels are always there to reinforce the choice for Light and Love.

So will you continue to indulge yourselves in negativity or will you step forward in Light and choose the way of God's Love in every aspect of your being and your life? Not easy, but it is possible. And every day presents its challenge and gives you the gift of this choice. And remember, so many subtle variations within your beings caused not only by these inner emotions, but the chemistry within your bodies. What you eat, what you think, who you are encountering at the moment the energies that mingle and shift between you. So much to be cognizant of. So many perceptions to hone, so many aspects to understand. Yet above all, the desire for Love will overcome all of these barriers and problems and dilemmas and lack of understanding, the power of God's Love is great.

God bless you, beloveds. May you continue to choose Light to be Light to express Light, to be that channel of Love that God desires you to be. And we who are with you will support you with every step, every breath, every thought. Every longing of your souls, we are there. You are never alone. God bless you and may God be with you on your journeys. Your helper and friend Seretta Kem ever at your side in support and love and prayer. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM MARY -- MOTHER OF JESUS

Gentle breezes of God's Love flow through you and into your souls, adding to the Light that burns bright within each one of you, my beloveds. You prepare a place for the souls who come and are drawn and who are curious and who long for the Father's Love. My beloveds, be strong and clear in what you say and what you do with these precious souls. They come for healing and love and nurture. They come to know God. And you prepare a place of Light, of welcome, of serenity. And we thank you for these efforts.

My dear daughter, God has great love for you and you have nurtured many over the years and you have done so with humility and love. And the Light grows bright within you, my beloved, and you will know peace. Though those around you do not recognize your beauty, there are many who do and though you know not those feelings from them, within their souls, they know, they know that you are God's instrument of Love.

Be at peace my daughter, be at peace and God will lift the burdens from you and bring the healing which you so desire. Be at peace and know that you are truly loved, that the angels surround you. So many in your life cry out and you respond and it is your desire to bring relief to so many. Yet often you do not see that you yourself require the healing and the peace. Yet God desires to give this to you my daughter, in abundance. And as you are healed you will heal, as you are loved, you will love and the burden of your physical infirmities will be lifted with faith and prayer and acceptance of what your Heavenly Father has to give to you.

Blessed are the peacemakers, blessed are the channels of God's Love, blessed are those humble and loving. God bless you, my beloveds. God bless you and keep you in His care and Love and Light. And you, you are my charges whom I care for and love deeply. God bless you, my beloved children. I am Mary and I love you.

MESSAGE FROM CONFUCIUS

Yes, we have much work to do to help you my daughter. There is much to accomplish to relieve your burdens, your pain, and we shall endeavor to work diligently in these days to come to help bring you the healing you require. Think of these days as a time to replenish, to be given to. Do not overly concern yourself with those around you. God will take care of all of you and those simple needs will be fulfilled. Be at peace and know you are loved and God desires to heal you, beloved, beloved soul, that you may continue His work of bringing His Love in this world.

I am Confucius. I give you my love and my healing to you, precious soul. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

And yes, the Heavenly Father has brought you together. This is not by happenstance, but it is by plan and intention that you are together. And the others shall come into the circle of Light and you will all benefit by the Father's touch within your souls and you will have greater clarity when these days are finished together, a deeper bond of love, a greater understanding of one another.

It is indeed all preparation, my dear students, for what is to come. And in this way, in this bond of love and in this sharing of prayer in God's Love together, you will have a deep bond which will allow you to work together in the world. The time comes for you to share these truths in a greater way throughout the world. And the doors will open for this, my beloveds. As long as you walk in faith, trusting in the Father's plan for the salvation of mankind, you will find your place within this plan, your purpose which God has imbued within each soul. And in fulfilling this purpose in being a part of this plan and being a channel of God's Love and Truth, you will find great and deep and wonderful fulfillment within you. And those impediments which you seem to face today, will be gone tomorrow.

God will give you what you require to do this work. It is a matter of being open to what is being given, to be generous with those around you and to be resolute in your knowledge of the truth. Each of you desires greatly, to do this work. It is a burning passion within your souls. It is a mission which you all acknowledge as being the primary purpose of your beings and lives at this time and as such, you have come together. The law of attraction, the laws of love, the support of the angels and the Will of God has brought you together and this will happen many times in the future. For as you come together in deep and sincere prayer, so you build the Light, you build the Light amongst you and this is the initial step of many.

Do not fear the future, but welcome what comes and do not speculate on God's plan, but listen deeply, listen deeply, my children, and you will hear and you will know the next steps. And as you grow in your soul's Love, the hearing will be more acute, the knowing will be deeper and the faith will be stronger, and the knowledge will come in ways that you may convey this to others who hunger, yet do not know what they hunger for.

Much to learn, my beloveds. Every day is an opportunity to learn, is a day in preparation for what is to come. Be prayerful. Be open and hungering for more. For what awaits you is a great flow of Love and knowledge, of healing and peace. And it is for you to break that dam that holds it back. For you to truly want this consciously, with every cell of your being, every yearning of your soul, every openness. It is within your mind to yearn and long and allow this great wave of Love to touch you, envelope you and sweep you away into a higher level of awareness, into a deeper understanding, into a great channel of Love built within you and your souls my beloveds. Walk the path, walk the path and be at peace. You are loved, loved deeply. And you will do the Master's work and the doors will open. The doors will open and you will walk through with joy and peace and anticipation.

God bless you. Augustine loves you, is ever with you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM SERETTA KEM

My friends, it is Seretta Kem.

Beloved sister, you require much healing and we have been working upon your body, helping you to replenish. There is much depletion in your energy and in the chemistry of your body. You must take time to replenish yourself. Be mindful of what you consume. Be mindful of the energy expended. Rest and prayer are so important, beloved sister.

Although you may have a handful of eager souls to pray with in the coming days, you will have a multitude of angels and spirits with you. Remember that much of the work you do in these gatherings flows out to those in spirit who are drawn to this Light, so pray, we ask you to pray for these dear spirits who are also curious and desire truth. So much happens in ways that you are not aware of, on levels of reality that you are not aware of, by means that are not available to your understanding at this time. But as you faithfully enter into prayer and conversation with one another, much can be accomplished. And we will guide you and inspire you and help you to come to greater clarity and soul growth.

Do not be afraid to speak the truth and to be honest with one another, for in the honesty and integrity of this loving and truthful sharing, you build bonds that will last for all eternity, my beloveds. You begin your journey here, but this journey shall never end. And the glorious wonderment that awaits you is far beyond your understanding at this time. And your souls eagerly anticipate what is to come and God will give you what you need, my beloveds. Just a small effort from you brings a great work and unfolding of the Father's plan.

How many angels are eager to assist you, how many spirits observe you, how many mortals feel the power of your soul's Love. You are never alone, and God uses you every moment to bring Light into the world. It is a constant flow, a wondrous work.

And what will be accomplished will change the world, my beloveds. And as you faithfully and humbly go about your life, ahh, how little you know of what is done, the Light you spread, the Love that flows. Yet it is so, and one day when the scales are peeled from your eyes and the understanding of the soul is great, you will know, you will truly understand the power of this work, this flow of Love, this healing of the world.

The power of Divine Love is greater than any other blessing and it will turn disharmony and darkness into Light and harmony, peace and joy, both within you and all about you. Continue my children to pray and live as best you can in the Light, to speak the truth, to walk this world as a channel of Love, and God will always be with you and the angels will be ever eager to support you upon your journey. Precious Lights, continue to do the Father's Will and you will be blessed mightily.

God bless you. Your friend and helper, Seretta Kem, is here and is ever with you and I love you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN THE BELOVED

I am John. And welcome to this circle of love which will expand in the coming days and will bring many blessings to each one of you my dearly beloved sisters and brothers.

The soul is the true self. The soul is what you seek to know, to understand, to become truly consciously aligned with the existence and consciousness of the soul. And until one truly is in that place of awareness and understanding, the authenticity that you speak of is not possible, for much is distorted within the mind. For the mind absorbs many influences and has been taught many things and is only marginally aware of the desires and inklings of the soul.

And this is your quest, my beloveds, to know your souls, to enliven your souls, to receiving God's Great Love and in that, comes truth and awareness and authenticity. In that, you will know great joy. In that, your faith will grow. In that, there will be no doubt, nor fear, nor ambivalence. Indeed this journey to the soul and this journey to God is fraught with many pitfalls and barriers as your mind and conditions of this world and the distortions, which are so much a part of every soul upon this planet, work against you in this journey, cause fear and doubt and pain. But with faith, with your sincere prayers to your Heavenly Father, with your willingness, to walk this path with sincerity and honest faith, to slough off all those conditions that are not in harmony with Love.

Yes, to walk innocently into the Light as a child, trusting in your Heavenly Father, knowing that His Love is the redeeming Love, the saving Grace, the great healing of the soul and so much more. And so I encourage you, my beloveds, to seek the Divine Love and along the way you will struggle and you will doubt and you will fear, but this does diminish as the power of God's Love takes precedence within you and allows you to truly know who you are, that being that God created, unique and beautiful, precious beyond price, glorious beyond words, beautiful, so beautiful. And you all have Divine Love within your souls, my beloveds. That Light burns bright within you and you will continue to know this, to feel this, to acknowledge it and to grow with it. Your beings flowering to the Light and warmth of God's Great Presence and Love.

Trust in this, my beloveds, and know that no other can walk your path with you. It is between you and God and we are with you as well in our prayers and encouragement. But indeed it is your effort, your prayers, your desire that will bring you to that place of true knowing. There is no other way, but you be not alone. You are truly in that place where you are with God only.

And when you are in that Light and that Presence, lay down your fears, your anxieties and your doubts, and say to your Heavenly Father, I give You this, for I am tired of carrying these burdens. I do not wish to be in that place of darkness. I wish to be in the Light, free, free of these human conditions. I wish for Your Love to redeem me and bring me to a place of pure ecstatic joy, awareness beyond our dreams, a knowing that is unassailable and understanding of the truth, as only the soul is able.

Can you walk to that place my beloveds? Can you trust in the desires of your soul? Can you trust in the loving care of your Heavenly Father? Can you release the cloak of pain? It is all within your capacity and you are given the gift of free will. And in this choice, you know, you truly know, what you desire and what is available to you, such a gift of knowing, such a gift given to you by your Heavenly Father. And each time you make that choice for Light, you grow stronger and all the other aspects which hold you back grow weaker. And upon this journey, there will be a time when they will not exist. They will have evaporated to nothing. And you will look back and wonder why you held on so long, when such joy awaits you, such true understanding and such honesty and authenticity.....you will see yourself emerging in a strong and powerful way. And at this time my beloveds, you will be unassailable. You will see the error that surrounds you, but you will not be a part of this. Instead, you will be in the world, but not of the world. And in this way, you will be a clear channel of the Father's Love in this world, bringing Light and healing and comfort and peace to so many.

All of humanity suffers in this way. They cannot bridge this chasm of aloneness and pain and doubt. They are afraid. Yet you, my beloveds, walk boldly into the Light. Make this choice. Make this choice and others will follow. They will know your strength and lean upon you and come with you. This is God's Will that you do so.

God's Love is for all who seek it. Tell your fellow man that this is so. What more do you need tell them? What more is necessary, but to tell them that they are loved, that they may receive this Gift of Love. This will open the door to this world of truly knowing at-onement with God, at-onement with all the wonderment of Creation, of Truth, of Light of Joy. What more would you want? What greater riches could you seek? So I pray with you, my beloveds, walk the Divine Path. Be earnest in your prayers. Be loving in your actions and know that God is with you always, always.

God bless you. Your friend John is with you and loves you dearly. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

I wish you to know that each soul drawn here for the coming days, hungers for the Love of God. Though there may be disagreements within their conscious awareness of what this desire is, there is a true hungering for Love. Be open and loving and accepting my beloveds. Do not incite arguments or disagreements. This will not accomplish what you desire to do here, but to allow each soul their place. And when you hear what you believe to be error, say a prayer for them. And when you hear their souls sing, give praise to God for His divine blessing upon them. All will be well and Love will indeed bring you all together. This is what is important, and you know this. And you will see how God's Love works its miracle within your midst, bringing the souls to a place of receptivity and openness and truth. Bless you, my beloveds. I am your brother and your friend. I am Jesus and I love you.

MESSAGE FROM ANDREW

And I am so happy to see you all together, such beautiful souls, praying and yearning to be in the Light. And I have been with this instrument often in his prayers and I have observed his struggles and how he has overcome his fears and his biases in order to come and be a channel of love in the world, clear and strong. And I wish to say to you, my friends, you too struggle to overcome those things within you that hold you back from pure and beautiful Love, God's Love. And when I walked the Earth, my soul knew God's Love, but my mind was not in clear understanding of its nature and purpose and I wish to convey to you my beloved friends, that this Love is the greatest gift any soul may receive. It does not reside in your soul upon your birth, that is the gift of natural love, which you receive and purify and utilize in your lives. But Divine Love is a gift from God, received in prayer and openness and desire to receive it. And it is the greatest blessing.

Oh, if I knew this truth more clearly in my lifetime here, I believe my words would be different. Not that I preached error, for I did as best as I could. And I did do the Father's work in my life and I do not regret this. But to know the Father's Love in a clear and conscious way, the Divine Love, this is a more powerful aspect of the soul working with God to be His instrument in the world. So I beseech you to look into this, to ask the questions, to ask God to open your soul in this way. All of you are here to learn, to grow and to share with one another and all of you have something to give, for life's journeys bring wisdom. Life's experiences bring understanding, and you all grow within your souls. You have Light within your souls and may this Light and Love be shared amongst you and I will be with you, my beloved friends, with all of you, to help you, to influence you and to pray for you.

There are many angels about you, surrounding you and making great effort to bring you to a higher level of understanding, and an openness within you, that you may see this truth and many truths with clarity. Our desire is that you come away from this gathering renewed and refreshed, healed of the body, inspired of the soul, that you may continue your journey upon this Earth with joyous and a powerful understanding within you of the Will of God. The Will of God my friends, that small voice within that will guide you upon your journey, will bring you to places and bring souls into your path so that you may be blessed in this experience, that you may walk as a channel of Love for others.

Yes, you desire community. Each one of you has a longing to be open and loving and spiritual with one another and I applaud this, this desire. For your souls long to express themselves openly, to revel in this joyous Love together and to have the support and the strength of fellowship. And it can and will happen, given your willingness to come together in acceptance and love. God does not want you to be alone or to feel lonely. And of course, God is always with you and you are never alone. But on this earth plane, often you feel separate from others and that deep desire to have this connection, to share (knock on door interrupted) I urge you to share in love and generosity. You have an opportunity here to express yourselves, to be who you truly are, to reveal to the others, your deep soul longings and desires, to be open, honest and true.

As the Father pours His Love upon you, drink deep, quench your thirst, be ravenous in your thirst and allow this blessing to work its miracle within your beings and give you all that you desire. For all of you have a deep thirst, a deep desire to be with God, to walk in His Light and Presence, to be in that place of communion. God is there waiting, waiting for you, loving you. Reach out and be with Him and He will reveal the mysteries of the universe. He will give you all and ask only that you love Him and desire to be with Him and at-onement.

So very simple to be with Him in this innocence, in this faith, in this truthful way, your soul with His soul, your being together with His great Being. And the angels will hold you up and help you to open your eyes.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am Andrew and I am here to be of service, to help you upon this little journey you take together, and many are with me in support and love and prayer. Reach out, my beloveds, and take the hand of God into Pure and Holy Light. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM CONFUCIUS

(laughs) God bless you my beloved, beloved souls. This is Confucius and I come to you in joy and encouragement. To hear you pray for the great inflowing of God's Love makes my soul soar. To hear the sincerity of your prayers is like the flowers opening to the warmth of the sun. Beautiful, each one, each soul present here is beautiful, a unique flower, a creation of God.

Indeed, do not underestimate the power of God's Will and to acknowledge the power of your own will, my beloveds. For each has free will, each beloved soul may choose. And yes, there is much pain and disillusionment in mankind. And it is for you, my beloveds, to overcome these conditions within yourselves, within the world, to have faith in the power of God's Grace and Will and Love.

No matter how you perceive it within your mind, it is real and is powerful and will transform the soul from mortal to immortal, from human to Divine. It is the Great Gift, the Saving Grace, the Redeeming Love. And I ask you my beloveds, to seek this Love with all your hearts and souls, to know this Love so completely that you shall walk in this Light of Love every step and every breath you take, every moment you are in the world. This Love will carry you and guide you and heal you and inspire you. It will take you down unexpected roads, surprising and beautiful, open doors you cannot yet imagine, bring into your consciousness, awarenesses of God's Creation in the most beautiful and awesome ways.

My beloveds, we walk together in this Light hand in hand, beyond the miasma and the shadows cast by this world into a place of joyous communion. Shall we walk together in faith and Love and be a Light in this world, beloveds, beloveds?

MESSAGE FROM FAITH

Well, my beloved friends, did I not say that my guidance was correct? (laughs) And indeed you have doubt. And this is understandable considering the obstacles in your place, but God does remove obstacles, open doors, puts those within your path whom are there to assist you, for God uses many instruments in this world. Instruments of Light and many of those instruments are unaware that they are indeed performing a service for their Heavenly Father. Yet their souls are more aware. And this is how you go about your lives so often my friends. You are busy with all the obligations and distractions of this life. Yet God is using you as well, to be His channel of Love, to perform His Will in the world. You are influenced greatly. Each one of you here is influenced every day by God and His angels. And most certainly, you are not aware of a great deal of what is accomplished. And it is not required that you be aware. It is only required that you are close to God, that you make that connection and communion, that you affirm that you are indeed a child of your Heavenly Father. And in that affirmation and commitment, your love for God opens the doors for God to use you in this way.

To walk this path is so simple. And one does not need great gifts of vision, and insight of the spirit. One does not need to be a medium. One does not need all of these gifts that many of you desire. And many of you have, but are not active to any great degree and this is not required. What is required is a willing soul, the soul that loves God and receives God's Love. And much can be accomplished in this way. This is the foundation. This is what will open up for you in your lives, what it is you most desire to do. And it is faith in the power of this Love, the Power of God's Will, which will indeed open these doors. And when you pray to your Heavenly Father to be used in the flow of His Will and the Grace of His Love and the Light of His guiding hand, indeed, God will answer your prayers.

And it will not be in ways which your mind anticipates, for no man can plan the unfoldment of God's plan for salvation for mankind. You are not capable. Even we, in the Celestial Kingdom, cannot formulate God's plan for the salvation of mankind. We listen, we put aside that part of us that is willful, for indeed that part has long fallen away from us. And for you, my beloveds, it is more difficult. It is more difficult, because you are still dealing with your very human condition. And we understand this. But we know and we see within you another side, another part of you which is your soul. It is all too willing to comply with God's Will, to put aside the desire to act upon your own mindful understandings of how your life should be conducted. And I beseech each one of you to go deep within, to listen to God from that place and be willing to comply with what is asked of you, my beloveds. And then, as you say, "the games will begin" in earnest, but they are not games. This is real and powerful and beautiful and challenging.

You all need to receive more Truth, more Love to truly understand what I say and each day is an opportunity to grow in this way, to accept God's Will, to accept the flow in the rhythm and the timing. It is God's Will and if you do so, you will know the joy of the unfolding wonderment of God's Will in the world. Nothing will hold you back. You will be caught up in such a flow that it will carry you around the world and you will meet many thousands. You will know the miracles of healing, of inspiration, of vision, of Love. Faith is a difficult thing, because faith counteracts and countermands your will. And you have all been taught to be willful. You value this part of yourselves. You hold on to that place within you that feels that it is in control. And when that feeling goes, there is fear and there is vulnerability, yet when you let this go to God, there is joy and freedom and greater understanding of what is intended in your lives. And your souls then can sing. And you will hear this song, your unique song and you will soar with the angels. It is so simple, so subtle, so powerful.

This is the way of the Divine Path and it is yours, my beloveds, given freely, yours to follow, yours to explore, yours to walk with the sure knowledge that God has His Hand upon you and will ever be there to guide you to your at-onement, your at-onement. That is the ecstasy that awaits. No greater joy, no greater awareness, your eyes fully open, your souls wide and expansive, your minds and your spirits in awe of God and His Creation. Is this not what all of you desire? It is promised and it is worth working towards and it will come to each soul, sincere and open to God's Great Love. And I pray that each one of you will walk that road and do so quickly and smoothly. For it is our desire that you come to know the Great Ecstasy and fulfillment that comes with this at-onement with God. And your souls so want this, they so desire this and this is the purpose of each soul, to find their at-onement with the Creator.

God bless you. Your friend Faith is ever with you and loves you dearly and I acknowledge my two dear friends, whom I knew on this earth, sincere and beautiful souls who seek the truth and are Lights in this world. God bless you. God bless all of you and thank you.

MESSAGE FROM ANDREW

God bless you, my beloved souls. I am Andrew. Each of you has received Divine Love within your souls. Each of you seeks for greater Love and understanding. In fact, many of you have dedicated your lives at this time to seek truth, to truly know, to fix within your consciousness, the truth of God's existence and Love for you. And this truth and this awareness will change in time, will find greater depths and greater breadths within you as God blesses you with His Love, as you seek the truth through your life experience, through your prayers and through your efforts to serve God. Life is an ever evolving and changing thing and so, your understanding of the truth will evolve as your soul grows within and that expression of "who you truly are" will indeed evolve and grow. And that which you cannot tolerate today, you may indeed embrace tomorrow. And that which you embrace today, you may find intolerable tomorrow. This is the way of the world of your beings. Yes, life changes and those in the care of God will grow and change and strengthen and find greater depth.

So much to be revealed to you my beloveds, so much awaits you. It awaits that time of true receptivity. It awaits that time where your minds may be more influenced by your soul perceptions. And your soul may grow in greater capacity with the blessings of God's Love. There are basic truths that you all know and these will not change, although they will be added to, but be receptive to what God has to give you with each day that you live upon this world. It is an opportunity to learn something, to grow in some way, to come even closer to your Heavenly Father in prayer. And as you learn to live within the Laws of His Love, as you learn to be in harmony within yourselves, to love, to accept, to grow, to learn and to give, to truly give of yourselves to another, there will be shifts and changes within you.

And you must have compassion for yourselves, my children, and love, for you are tender and new and need the nurturing. Allow God to help you to grow, to guide you on your life's path, to give you what you require and to bring you the truth through the inflowing of His Love. That truth will stay with you and will expand as your souls expand and become clearer as you are closer to your Heavenly Father. And these truths that are given are pearls beyond price. And what you know already my children can change the world, can change the world, if the world but listens and can accept these simple truths.

And for those of you who wish to change the world, as a channel of God's Love and Grace, do not be perturbed or impatient, but to have faith that God will show you the way through the complexities and the conditions of this world to a place of power and strength, clarity and love, wisdom and surety, that who you are and what you say and what you emanate will draw those who feel this within you and their ears will be opened, their minds willing to listen. And through your teaching and demonstrating the truth, you will indeed change the world.

For when you walk in this way in the world, you do the work of the Master and you fulfill the desires of God, to bring healing, comfort and Love to many. It is a humble task and a humbling task, for you will not be showered with acknowledgment and appreciation from all you meet. Many will turn away from you, but those who do not, you will have planted the seeds of truth that will change their lives forever. You will have pulled a soul from darkness into the Light. You will have brought the greatest gift to them and revealed to them that they have a choice to be with God, to be loved by God, to live by the truths of God's Love.

Indeed, it is for them to choose, but is for you to inform those who do not know, who cannot see. Give them the choice. Through what you say and who you are, you do affect those around you. And there is always a reaction. This is all you can anticipate. It is a response nonetheless. And this is a movement within the soul, a stirring and a longing and for some, they are fearful of this and for others, they are joyful and recognize this response as good and important. And so it is in this world. God gives this Light to those willing to receive and those that are willing to receive have a responsibility to sustain the Light, to grow the Light in prayer and supplication to their Heavenly Father. And as they become stronger and brighter, responsibilities become greater, and more far-reaching, to be that beacon, to be that purveyor of the truth, to teach, to be a channel of Light and healing and comfort and love to many. And many of you are at that point, to be out into the world to teach and heal and comfort, to reach out, and I would encourage you to do so, my beloveds.

It is important. It is required. For the world is in a desperate condition. All of the façade is false and will not last. For underneath is great lacking, a hollowness and a great deal of ignorance and error and to go forth, to break through this façade and to reveal the error, which will happen as you walk in the world. It will happen in ways that are subtle yet powerful. Some of this will be overt and you will receive a response and some will want to lash out. But I tell you, the time is now to be God's instruments of change, of truth and you must be strong, my children, committed and sure of your steps. And much will be asked of you. There will be sacrifice. At times, it will be painful. But along with these elements, will be a great joy and an understanding that you are with your God, your Heavenly Father, as His child. And in Him loving you and you loving Him, the world will take on a new perception, and understanding and your priorities will change.

And what is important today will not be tomorrow. So I encourage you, my beloveds, beautiful souls, who do indeed want to walk in Light and Truth, please do so, with every step. And we who walk with you, will protect you, inspire you and God will provide for you. What is required? Faith my children, faith, trust, love, integrity and honesty. You must be and do and be all of these things in order to walk this path as you were meant to, for each soul has a purpose. Each soul shall be shown what they must do. Each soul has gifts and abilities, yet unrecognized, but waiting, waiting for that time of true and full expression. And all will come about in the flow of God's Love.

The key to all of this is your ability and your desire and your effort to receive this Love in great abundance. Nothing else will substitute this. Nothing else will bring about these changes within and this flow of truth that will come. Beautiful souls, walk with the angels. Be with us in this great work and you will find your way. And you will find this joyous and wondrous. God bless you, God bless you. I am Andrew and I love you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

Blessed are the children of the Heavenly Father who seek His Love, who have a deep desire within their souls to know truth. Blessed are those who are humble. Blessed are those whom in their lives, they express love and are generous of heart and spirit. Blessings to you, my children, who make great effort to rise above the conditions of this world and the conditions that lie within yourselves and try to walk in the Light. You are blessed.

Continue on your journey and your search and your prayers and efforts to reach your Heavenly Father. There is no greater work than this. And in this, comes your salvation. And all that you accomplish within yourselves, you shall bring into your life and spirit and carry on, progressing through the spheres into the Celestial Kingdom. As you accumulate God's Love within your souls and your souls flourish in this, carry on, my brethren, carry on and do my work. For you are loved and you are guided and you are watched over and you are so needed in this world to bring Light and truth and love. And follow me, for I shall lead you and we shall work together in loving harmony. Be at peace and know you are loved. God bless you. I am Jesus and I love you.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN THE BELOVED

Carry this Light with you as you journey home. Contemplate the words that were spoken, the conversations you have had with one another, the blessings of this time together and bring them deep within your heart and soul, and may they open up new awarenesses, greater Love and inspire you forward as God's channels of Love in the world.

You cannot do this on your own. You cannot do this from your willful nature. You must have humility. And you must support one another in love. And in this way you will influence many and bring the truth to many. You have been called, my brethren. You have been called. Now it is your choice to listen to this calling from deep within and follow God's Will, which is to bring truth to mankind, to bring the truth of what it is that will truly bring salvation to those who are lost and without Love.

It is a great work. But it is a work you cannot do alone, and you cannot do through the eyes of your mind, but must do through the eyes of your soul. Seek ye the Kingdom, my beloveds, seek ye the Kingdom and all will flow on to you and through you and about you and the way will open and you will know a great joy in service, a service of healing, of teaching, of praying, of supporting and loving your fellow man. You have been called. Take up the banner and walk forthright into this world, without fear and with great faith. You will be guided. God bless you, beloveds. I am John the Beloved and I love you.

Fly away little birds, fly away. And some day you will return to this perch and sing your songs together in loving harmony and God will carry you on His breath of Love and take you to many places in the world. Fly away little birds and know that you are in the palm of God's hands, nurtured and cared for. Be at peace. Confucius loves you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

Yes, you have had an important conversation this morning and you are curious about what transpired in these days that you had with your beloved brothers and sisters in prayer and in conversation. It is not possible to always experience the flood of Love and Light and upliftment in a conscious way. As you embark upon your journeys and encounter many difficult conditions and you encounter those who in their mindful intentions are not in harmony with yours and therefore there is a sense of distance. And what you attract to yourselves in your daily lives and you bring within your homes through your prayers and meditations and thoughts, you cannot expect that this comforting condition and familiar condition would be available to you wherever you go. Because as you inhabit a place for a period of time and your routines of prayer and spiritual life imbue within each element within your homes, the very fabrics of what is there are imbued with spiritual energy and a Light. And of course because you live within these conditions, they become very familiar and you are not able to discern this every day as a reality within your life. But when you leave this and you are someplace different you do see the difference, you do ascertain what is missing.

And so, my children, this will be part of your experience as you embark upon your travels and do your spiritual work, guided by God. But it does not mean that you will be forced to experience difficult spiritual conditions wherever you go. To counteract this, it is required that you keep yourselves in good spiritual condition, that you bring with you that Light and that you stay close to God and be within the flow of His Love.

Yes, the world is a difficult place. Even those who ascribe to your understandings and the Divine Love Path bring conditions which you are not familiar with. These conditions accumulate with their choices and thoughts and actions. But you have been guided, my beloveds, to be channels of Love, and acceptance and understanding for those you meet. And this is the important purpose of your efforts together, to bring that Light with you, to shine in that Light, to be the example, to share with others a warm welcome, a generous heart and a loving spirit. In this way you teach those around you, you bring a higher truth. And when you indulge yourselves in your more human qualities that are not of the soul, then that Light is diminished.

And of course you are human, and of course you cannot be always within that flow of perfect harmony, but this is something to strive for, my children. Something important for you to learn. And to be within this flow is doing the work that you so desire to do, to walk in this Light, unencumbered by your own biases and judgements and fears. It's difficult, but certainly not out of your grasp.

And, of course you experience the physical problems of health, and there are many elements and aspects in life which detract from the spiritual, and we understand. For we too walked the Earth, and knew these problems and barriers. But each time you recognize that you have fallen out of this flow and each time that you are aware that you are in this flow of God's Love and harmony, you have learned, you have learned and you become more adept to walk this Path in harmony. God provides for you many opportunities for learning and growth. God gives you all that you require to step ever higher upon that ladder of Light and harmony, of greater soul growth and perception.

Do you not feel your own progression, my beloveds? Do you not see how far you have come in the grace of God's Love? And you have shared with one another your heart's desires in beautiful poems, in conversations of truth and honesty. And God has given you the gifts and the opportunities to be open and loving to one another, to be in proximity with one another, to develop a true and strong bond of love that will last for all eternity, my beloveds.

And in this way you are growing your family. And was not the messages given to the others an invitation to be a part of this family, to also share in this way, to trust one another, to learn from one another? And some have rejected this, and some have considered this invitation. And it is not for you to worry about what they decide, only to be concerned with your own decisions, to be a part of this Light, this Love, this flow. But to issue the invitation, to open the door to them is doing God's work. And each outstretched hand is a blessing, each willing soul is a blessing and an opportunity to grow in your own soul's awareness and loving expression.

For as you add unto your own lives these beautiful relationships of Love you enrich one another and give power to the truth of God's Love. And as these bonds grow and as the numbers grow and the family grows, you are creating a great Light in the world. And that influence, the power of that Light will bring change, will ignite the desires within the souls around you for God's Love. And as you walk more beautifully upon the Divine Path, the teaching of your example, of your being, will be powerful and beautiful. And there will come a time, my beloveds, where you will become unassailable, and you will bring that beautiful Light wherever you go, in whatever condition you are in. The Light of God's Love will prevail, and you will not feel these discomforts and worries. But know that you are being carried. Indeed this is true at this time but your mind has difficulty to accept this. And to be completely and faithfully attuned to this flow of Love, and in your doubt you step out of this flow.

Beloveds, beautiful souls. You are doing God's work. And this will expand and intensify as you see now how doors open and opportunities abound to do God's work. You are never alone. You are never forsaken. You are always in God's caring Light, and presence, enveloped, protected and guided. Do not step out of this Light, but remain within and know that you are loved so completely, so beautifully, so powerfully loved, cherished, nurtured by the angels.

And although you may perceive a misunderstanding from another soul towards your character and your being, approach them in Love, dissolve the barriers in Love. Walk the high road and God will do the rest. So much awaits you, my beloveds. So much awaits you. And you are ready. And each day is an opportunity for further growth, a time of replenishment of greater understanding, and to grow the Love within yourselves, for your prayers.

God bless you, my beloveds. Your teacher Augustine is well pleased. Do not harbor negative thoughts, but be joyous, be joyous, for you are loved and God is well pleased with what you have accomplished and your willingness to follow His guidance and walk the Path Divine. One day you will look back and you will understand, and in that understanding you will praise God for all the blessings given, all the opportunities set forth before you, and all the ways that God has taught you truth and helped your soul to grow and brought your being in alignment with His Love. So many blessings, so much in your awareness unseen yet given in abundance. God bless you, my beloveds. You are loved. Your teacher Augustine is well pleased and loves you dearly. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM PETER FOR H

I am Peter, and I come because I guide this beloved son in his mission and journey in life. And yes, my son, you do feel at times very alone. But you are never alone. And you feel different from the others and this is because your soul is awakened. Your soul is awakened my son, with the Love of God and it yearns for more and it yearns for fellowship and communion with God and with others.

Indeed this journey is difficult as there are so few who truly understand your walk in life, your desire to be at-one with God. So few have a clear understanding, yet they feel the power of your soul desires and your Light. And in that they wish to be close to you, to support you and love you. And yet this is often not enough for you because of the power of this desire to be with God.

You will not falter my son and God will send to you those who understand to give you support, open your heart and talk about your deep desire to be in the Light. It is this desire which will bring you into the Light, this deep abiding Light within your soul cries out to God for Love. And God will always respond to this and will never abandon you, my dear son. The more you step forth in prayer and supplication to your Creator, the stronger and more powerful the response, which will lift you above those very human conditions and needs within you, and help you to walk a higher road. And you have such great empathy for those about you, a sensitivity, which you must learn to guard against for this empathy you are burdened by the conditions of those around you and this is difficult for you. And you must learn to be in the world but not of the world, to be a channel of Love, to walk your truth in a clear and powerful way.

If you grow in this way and in this expression of who you truly are, my beloved son, that which you need and desire will come to you. But it does require strength on your part and discipline. And you are upheld by the angels, beloved son. You are upheld and guided. Ask for God's protection and Love to be around you at all times and see with the eyes of your soul, my son.

Have compassion and humility and love. In this way you will heal many souls. Draw them to the Light. And show them the way to God's Love.

As you walk in this Earth in a state of Grace, many souls will respond and the invitation to receive God's Love is done in this way. You do not always need to declare yourself, my son, to help others to come to God's Love, for it is in your being and your Light that you make this declaration. And you walk the Truth, and others will be drawn and often know not why, or misplace their understanding of why, but nonetheless, as a channel of Love you have done your work. And this will grow and life will change for you as it will for all here and those who truly wish to walk the Divine Path. There is a great work ahead. And for you my son, it is a time of preparation and learning and growing within your soul and your understanding of the Truth. Set time aside for you to be educated and in prayerful supplication to God and the time comes near when you will see and hear the angels with you. You have many gifts my son, many gifts and they shall emerge in harmony. Be at peace and know that you are loved. I am Peter and I am guiding you. It is my privilege to do so. To be close to you and I love you dearly. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM MARY, MOTHER OF JESUS

God bless you. As you envelop the children with your love and help them to reach for higher things to acknowledge the beauty that is within themselves, God's precious creations, you do God's work. Envelop the children and lead them from their fears and the darkness and ignorance to a place of Light and freedom and joy. In doing so you do God's work. In doing so you are mightily blessed. Express your gifts. Be who you truly are.

You are all beloved brothers and sisters, sons and daughters of the Creator. Be aware of this. Do not let outside forces draw you away from this awareness, but acknowledge that you are truly beloved and in the Light. And yes every soul in this world struggles for Light, goes against the rising tide, threatens to envelope the entire world in darkness. It is a struggle. But it is a struggle of great importance and is needed in this world, to be a channel of Light. For the world will soon be in great upheaval and it will be those who are strong enough and centered enough in the Light of God's Love and Will, who will lead those who are willing out of this darkness and chaos to something greater and brighter and in harmony of God's creations.

So much work to do and to work with the children is such an important work. Continue on in these efforts, beloveds, continue on in your journeys for greater truth to be God's instruments in this world. Many doors will be opened, surprises and untold blessings will be yours as you walk in faith upon this Path. Beloved souls, you are embraced by God. His Love is flowing into your souls in this very moment. You are upheld and nurtured and guided. Blessings to you, blessings to all those who strive for Light. Be at peace and know that you rest within the palm of God's hands. God bless you, beloveds, I love you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

Your teacher Augustine here. You are firmly within the flow of God's Will my children and you continue to be a party to this and do His Will in your lives and you will each come to express your purpose in this world. Do not let others draw you away from this flow of purpose in Love and Will. But be of faith, be strong in the Love and all will unfold as is meant by God's great Hand and Will.

You are loved, and you are indeed greatly needed in this world. Continue on as God guides you on each footstep upon your journey. Yes, you must deal with the human conditions and the great neediness of those around you, but this is the way of the world and you cannot circumvent these challenges. But walk forward in faith and love, compassion and understanding for those who have great need for comfort and love. For each of these challenges brings growth within your soul as you overcome your desire to resist and to pull away from these great needs and to be a channel of Love, of God's Love. This channel clarifies, strengthens and purifies as you overcome these challenges and give willingly as God's channel. You will grow, my beloveds, and strengthen and understand what it is to be this channel. Let your souls purify, so will your understanding grow. Pray for the Love to enact its miracle within your souls and all will be well, my beloveds, all will be well. God bless you and keep you in His Light. Your teacher Augustine is with you and loves you dearly. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

I have come, God bless you. I am Jesus.

I come to bless you, my beloveds, and bless your journey together, for this is God's Will, my beloveds. It is God's Will that you to be together, travelling this land, being a channel of God's Love wherever you go, and so it shall be, my beloveds. You shall be a channel of God's Love wherever you go with each day that comes upon your journey. You shall be blessed and so shall those around you.

This is doing God's work, to walk in faith, to follow God's guidance, to welcome all those who come within your place and in so doing you shall learn how to spread the Truths. It shall come within your consciousness, your understanding, the words you speak, the actions that you take, the Love that flows. And so it was in my day upon this Earth. I followed God's Will and I performed the blessings with those around me. With the blessing of God's Love all is possible, my dear beloved children. Do not limit yourselves in this, but allow all barriers and judgments, fears and doubts to fall away from you. And walk the path of Love. Do my work, do God's Will. And every day shall be a mighty blessing, and in every day there shall be many blessings, beloveds.

God bless you, I bless you, I am with you, God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM ANDREW

It is Andrew, your brother and friend.

Ah, you are so eager, my beloveds, my precious friends, to do God's work and Will in the world. To bring the truth of God's Love, this great news to every soul. Every day brings you closer to that great flow of Love, the flow of God's Will in the world. And each day is a blessing and a gift with many opportunities, many possibilities. And each day is a learning and a preparation, so that you may fulfill your part in God's great plan of salvation for mankind. Each day you step closer to this, my beloveds, each day with yourselves being open and eager and receptive to what the day gives/gifts you. You learn something, you are strengthened within your souls, you receive a greater inflowing of God's Love.

And as you converse together and reveal your souls' longings and your minds' questionings to one another so you gain more clarity and understanding as we are with you impressing upon your minds what is true, what you need to know. And yet you have this great eagerness to step many steps ahead, and to be at that place where the flow of God's Love and Will is strongest and clearest and most powerful.

My children, it is one step at a time. It is one day at a time, it is one blessing at a time. And you will grow and learn and this accelerates as time goes by and the days accumulate and you bring into yourselves the clear and beautiful Truth and your vision changes, the wisdom of your soul grows, the gifts that lie within you flourish and blossom. Yes, you are eager, and we are pleased with this eagerness and God gives to you all that you require. But indeed it is a journey and each step is important, each day, each moment, each breath, as you make the choices for Light as you yearn and long and come ever closer to your Heavenly Father. Each day is a blessing, live this day to the fullest, and be receptive to God's guiding hand and all manner of blessings and surprises and truths and love will come your way.

An open and willing heart, a desire for the highest, a soul filled with this Love will bring the miracles you seek, the clarity and the purpose which is within each one. A great purpose will unfold as is meant to be in God's great Will and His desire for you to fulfill this Will, this purpose, this hidden gem within you.

God bless you, my beloveds. Andrew loves you and steps with you each step upon your journey. I am there, as are many angels who pray for you, in constant prayer, who love you and protect you and journey with you for you are so precious in our sight, in God's sight. And loved beyond measure, God bless you, precious souls, may you journey well and all of God's blessings be yours. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM FAITH

God bless you. I come to reassure you, my beloveds, my precious friends, that you will indeed do the work as laid before you in my home. And you will travel to many places in the world to do this work. It is important that you are physically present in these various places in the world for this brings a powerful manifestation of love and blessings wherever you go, given your desire to be this instrument of God's Will. Yes, you will work in that far off place, and you will work in many places, many destinations.

Do not create barriers or speculations but be loving and open and receptive to the flow of God's Will. For this is not for you to create, it is for God to manifest through you and as such you must be humble and open and willing like children, following your Heavenly Father allowing His Will to manifest in this perfect way, harmonious and with great effect in the world.

And so you walk between your desire to manifest initiatives and plans and your soul's desire to follow the Will of God and this creates a conflict and restlessness. Yet God has placed you where you are meant to be – has done so with great harmony. Remember this my friends, God's Will is both clear and a mystery and every day brings a clarity of the sun and the mystery of all the possibilities inherent in this day. Walk in Light and discover what God may gift you. Yes beloveds, my dearest, I love you dearly and I have been with you often and you need not worry. You need not worry, be at peace and know that God's Will manifests in your lives more powerfully with each day, more powerfully with each blessing of His Love.

God bless you and I love you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

I wish to comment on your journey thus far, my two precious souls. Do you not see, how the souls of those you have been in contact with each place that you have travelled and journeyed, they have been stirred, they have been inspired, they are questioning and learning and growing. And you see that this is your gift and part of your purpose to bring the power of God's Love in greater measure into the lives of those you touch. And the comments that they have made and the love they have given is but the tip of the iceberg of what has been accomplished in your journeys thus far. And you ask this question 'how may I serve you dear Father', are you not serving God in this way? Is this not a great blessing in purpose to come to your brothers and sisters in hopeful love as they see your dedication and your faith manifest, as you make your efforts to travel great distances to be with your brothers and sisters. And God has provided the means for this and this will not be the only journey, nor the only purpose in your lives.

My beloveds, each of you here has great gifts to share and works to perform and love to give and God shall answer your prayers, my beloveds, when you ask to be of service. God will use you in many ways and propel you upon many paths, to serve Him, to bring love and change in this world.

And what is it to answer a prayer? Is it not for God's Will to filter down into your lives, that you may do His Will and answer the prayers of those who reach out to Him and ask for a blessing? And this is how God manifests in many ways through His angels, through His instruments on Earth. And yet it is difficult for you to see this. God's Will manifests through you, when it is indeed done in many ways, maybe it is subtle in your vision, but it is powerful in its effects. Ah....what awaits you my beloveds, what awaits is a wonderment. Your souls are joyed by this feeling, the life of God's Will sparking within you, manifesting and flowing.

God bless you, beloved souls, instruments of the Creator's Will. God bless you. Augustine loves you.

MESSAGE FROM PETER

I am Peter.

I am pleased to see you together and you have been gathered together in many places and this is for a purpose. This has purpose this gathering, to bring Light. Indeed amongst you is a great power for change in the world. Many gifts and potentials to bring Light and change and love into this world. And you will continue to come together in places around this globe and work together in this way. So much you are not aware of, my beloved children, so much accomplished that your senses cannot perceive at this time. And there is much work to do, much work, and love to bring to do your Father's Will, to walk this Earth in Light.

Continue to pray together, beloveds. For the commitment that you carry together shall bring great change, shall uplift many, shall help each of you to learn and grow, to expand your souls and your awareness of truth. And you replenish one another by your presence. The gifts that you share and we are happy that you respond to our summons to be together in love and harmony and soulful longing to be a channel in this world of God's Love.

And every step that you take on this small journey together in this place will be blessed. The angels will surround you and blessings given to many, to the dear children and to those in great need. And when you gaze upon this deprivation, do not feel a sense of guilt for what you have, but praise God for this blessing in your lives of such abundance and ask God to show you how you may utilize all aspects of your life to serve Him and to change the condition in this world. It is a great work, requires deep wisdom and a willingness to listen to God's guidance, to know His Will, to act in ways which will have a great effect and ripples of change and longings of the soul implanted in all those that you meet.

Much is given to you my children, and indeed much is expected. But these expectations are not beyond your capacities, but we encourage you to grow in your souls to receive an ever greater inflowing of God's Love, so that those gifts that lie within you may flourish and express themselves for the benefit of mankind.

You walk in God's Light, you are His channels of Love, you are mightily blessed - every part of you, every part of your lives is a blessing, a gift and God so loves you that He opens the doors to many possibilities, opportunities, work of the soul. Continue to journey upon your paths, continue to nourish the joy within you and the love that you share will grow and expand and you will enfold many upon this path. Relieve those who suffer, bring blessings to the lost souls, teach truth to those who so desire this, and inspire those who long for God to understand what it is they long for.

Great work lies ahead, many facets, many aspects of this work will be performed by you, my children. And you are eager, you desire this within your souls. And you will be guided as you have been and will continue to be. Journey in Love, journey in peace and journey in joy. For you serve your Heavenly Father in wondrous ways. And a time will come when your eyes are opened and you will see all the wondrous beauty at this work. And this will bring you great joy, the Love will flow, the Light will expand and the journey will take on a greater depth of meaning and purpose and soulful understanding. Each day draws you closer to this, each day is a blessing and brings alive God's Love within that day, within your beings into this world. God bless you, my intrepid travelers, my beautiful souls. God bless you. Peter loves you and I am with you.

MESSAGE FROM MARY, MOTHER OF JESUS

God Bless you my children, I am Mary. I will be with you when you are amongst the children. This work you do, my beloveds, is a work of love, a manifestation of God's Will and as you give in love so you grow in love. As you release your resistance and barriers to the flow of God's Love through you, and you embrace the children and the lost souls so you bring great blessings to yourselves and great blessings to those about you. This is doing God's work and this does indeed bring change in the world. Small steps lead to greater steps. Simple love leads to great change. And the road that you walk upon will widen substantially and there will be many travels together to bring this Light through the world. When you love the children you love yourself. When you feed the children, you feed your soul. When you give in this way the Light brightens around you and you become a beacon which will draw many. God bless you. I am Mary and I love you so.

MESSAGE FROM SERETTA KEM

God bless you, this is Seretta Kem. Your dear and beloved sister (M) is very depleted and the treatments that she receives at this time are important, as is the rest and replenishment. And as the blood is treated we will add healing elements, to help sustain her life. But I am afraid that she cannot return to her previous life as this is too much for her body. There is great damage to her internal organ. But what life she has will be peaceful and the angels will sustain her. This is an answer to your prayer my daughter. She has given so much and unfortunately she has paid the price in her physical body. Care will be given to this blessed soul. Your prayers are important and so is your love. God bless you. I am with you on your journey. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

It is your teacher, Augustine.

Do you not see the wonderment of God's Will to bring you to this place? The blessings are bestowed upon you as you are willing to come to answer the call.

And the dear soul who abides in this place brings Light, prepares for you a place of comfort and love and she listens to God's small voice within her and opens herself to His Will and walks in places of darkness and deprivation and does so willingly with love, honoring all that she meets with love. An example of God's loving channel in the world. Watch this beautiful soul, my beloveds, as she traverses through the conditions and needs of these poor yet eager souls who wish to be in the Light and yet live in such hopelessness and confusion. She brings hope, she brings Light, she brings solutions to the dilemmas. And this is doing God's work.

So my children, walk with her and bring your hope and love. Do God's work this day, embrace each child this day, every soul you encounter is a precious gift to you to be that channel of Love. To put aside your fears and your judgements, and your misconceptions and be that clear channel of Love this day and in so doing you have fulfilled your purpose upon this journey. And you will bring this insight and experience to others when you return to your homes. And this will be indeed a blessing for them.

And to truly gain insight into the reasons and conditions for such great poverty will help you in the future. For the world to be lifted up my children the very lowest of the low must be lifted. And there is so much in this world, in these bitter and soul-deadening conditions. So many are trapped in this, require some effort by those of you who have more resources to bring a change, to inspire those who feel trapped to struggle out of this terrible darkness.

Indeed this is a difficult work but it is necessary. For this world cannot be divided in two, those who have nothing and those who have everything. There must be more equanimity. More love and honoring of all souls. This is the Father's Will. And this work that you embark upon is blessed by your Heavenly Father who loves the little child in the dirt as much as he loves you. All are equal in His eyes, all are precious, all are beautiful. See through these eyes, my children, and let your love reach out to every soul. Embrace all you meet, be that channel of Love that you declare you wish to be.

God bless you, beloveds. God's hand is upon you and the angels are with you, and you shall be upheld as you experience this day. A great blessing to each one of you. God bless you. Augustine loves you and embraces you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

My dear students, this is Augustine.

So you see that things have unfolded in ways that you did not expect and attitudes have shifted on both sides amongst yourselves and amongst those in the village. And many souls were touched on that day and hope was indeed given to some and healing and comfort to many. You were all used as channels of Love. And I believe that you all could see the effects that this had amongst those you prayed for and embraced. Indeed it is difficult to see such deprivation. To reach out, to put aside your shock of what you see. But what you have seen is an outward manifestation of the deprivation which is all around the world. For those who have material comfort they have a deep deprivation within their souls, so many. And yet, many who have material deprivation have a Light within their souls, a joy within, an innocence, a loving nature.

The darkness that resides within mankind manifests in many different ways. And you, my children, as you're exposed to these different conditions will be able to discern this with your soul's perceptions and God will prompt you in many ways to express His Love to all that you meet, all the conditions that you move amongst. God's Love will clear away the darkness and your love will bring comfort to many.

Continue in your efforts my dear and beloved children. Some of you have learned much through this experience and were deeply moved. And this is a blessing from God. So much more to experience and understand, so much work to do. Indeed this work at times may feel overwhelming. But as you greet each day with the desire to be a channel of God's Love, you and your Heavenly Father, and we in spirit, will chip away the darkness, piece by piece, day by day, breath by breath. And those of you who are strong enough, persistent enough, loving enough have a deep faith, you will make change in this world, though you may not see the breadth and depth of this change, it will manifest. For now the fires that sweep this world to cleanse, to purify, they are small embers but will be fanned by the breath of God to a mighty flame. And you will be purveyors of this of truth of Light of Love. Each day that you challenge yourselves will overcome that which inhibits this. You become stronger and in the greater flow of Love. And your Lights will grow, my beloveds, they are growing and much is falling away from you.

And when you reveal what is in your hearts to one another you are taking a step to release those conditions. Allow God to heal you completely. And lift you up to that high place beyond the human condition so that you may be in the world but not of the world. And though you may feel that you are alone, you are never alone. And though you may feel you walk a lonely path, you walk with many angels. And there are those on earth who walk with you as well. You understand what it is that you strive for and desire for and hence your Heavenly Father has brought you together in fellowship and will do so again and again to help you to support one another, to bring greater clarity amongst you.

This is God's Will and the means for this will be provided. None of you can truly know God's plan. Yet, you all are part of this plan and it is your responsibility and challenge to realize the purpose you have within this plan. To put aside your judgements and your fears and your preconceptions, but to be open to God's Will and to manifest this as clearly and powerfully as you can. You have great support, my children, great support in this. And you will succeed and in time you will become unassailable by those who would tear you down. Your faith will grow to such an extent that you will know in a clear way your Heavenly Father's Will for you. And this, my children, is what you strive for and pray for and long for. It shall be given and is given.

Though you see through glass darkly on this day, each day will become clearer, each day the joy within will be stronger and there will be no doubts, no worries or cares or burdens, merely opportunities and awareness that you are with God. This is possible, my children. It is coming in your lives, and each day will be a joy, a discovery and a wonderment. We in spirit are so happy with the efforts that you have made together to help those in such need. And yes, there will be more opportunities to manifest this Love in this way. Follow your guidance, walk in the Light, long for the Love, listen and act with pure intention and loving grace, humble but strong, simple but powerful. So much awaits. You are loved, so dearly loved. Walk in the Light, my beloveds. God bless you, your teacher Augustine loves you and is with you often. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN THE BELOVED

God bless you....I am John. May the peace that passes all understanding be with you, my beloveds, and may the Father's Love find a constant inflowing into your souls. Yes, there is much work ahead for each one of you. And you are beginning to feel the power of that deep purpose that God has put within each one. And as you come together you affirm this, you affirm your awareness of your deep soul desire, that deep soul-purpose. Those things that you have committed to do with God and God is ushering you along the path that these things may manifest in ways that are meant to be in this world. And doors that are meant to open and you are meant to walk through and souls you are meant to meet. And a life you are meant to live, in service, in harmony with God's Will and Love. And you are past groping along in the dark, your lives are now lit with the consciousness of God's presence within it.

And so you must indeed follow your own deep and inner awareness of where you must go, where you must be and how you must enact the Will of God, the Truths of God and the Love of God. You are no longer babies but now you can walk. And now you understand the power of God's Love. And in this you have a responsibility, to be in that flow as powerfully as you can, to walk in this Light at all times, to pull yourself up from that human condition and to release all those parts of you that are dead weight and unnecessary and to release that human condition to God.

We do not ask for perfection. We only ask for a desire and an intention to be pure in your thoughts and your deeds. Indeed, this is a great invitation and expectation upon you as you live in conditions that are not conducive towards this, but for you to be leaders and examples, to be beacons of Light it is required for you to make this effort and it is truly your soul's desire to do this to strive and aspire to the highest, to this Light and in many respects you are successful and at times you fall. But are you judged by the angels or by God? No, you are only loved and nurtured, given what you require in guidance and love and healing and support, so that you may make that choice again – for Light.

The Divine Path does not have the harshness of judgement but only love and acceptance and encouragement and an abundance of gifts of love and healing of peace and joy. These blessings rain upon you my children. And as long as you do not turn away or become apathetic you will indeed grow and flourish in this and truly understand the power of love, the power of God's Love, to change the mortal to the immortal, the human to the angel.

And you are embarked upon this process each transforming at their own rate, in their own time through their own choices in this transformation. And for many that seed within them is nurtured but has not sprouted. But for you my dear ones, you have become saplings destined to become great trees flourishing in the sunlight of your Father's Love and the living waters nourishing you. And every day new growths are spreading and expanding your beings, every day God tends to you and brings you to fruition. Indeed when that day comes, you will flower in glorious beauty... a gift to humanity, a gift to yourselves, a gift to God. And such joy it brings us to see you grow, to watch this miracle, to praise God for claiming another child. And for bringing this beautiful child into the family of God's children.

Beloveds, beloveds, be joyful, be joyful, for you are in God's garden, tended and nurtured and you are beautiful beyond measure. Beautiful. Bring your beauty wherever you go. Be loving and kind and generous. Allow this beauty in Light to spread throughout this world so that others may indeed become a part of this wonder, this garden, this beautiful place where you and God are together in loving harmony. Go find your way, my children, for how can you not find your way when God's Hand is upon you and the angels guide you and the road is clearly lit. Follow your hearts, walk in faith and know how beautiful you are, how loved you are. Be joyous and filled with that knowing, that Love, that Presence of God. God bless you and keep you enfolded, and I love you as do, so very many angels pray for you and love you. And the Light expands. Do not be afraid but push forward in faithful trust that you are being lead and guided. God bless you, God bless you, beloved souls.

MESSAGE FROM CONFUCIUS

Yes, you are always be united my children, in Love, wherever you are in the world you will be united in Love. This is a gift God has given you. For you are all sincere souls seeking to do the work of God and the Master Jesus. And as such wherever you are, in whatever time, there will be a connection, an awareness and understanding that you walk together as brothers and sisters in this world, and this shall be for all eternity, my beloveds, all eternity you will walk together in love helping one another and working together to bring Light in this world and the next – you will work together, bringing Light and understanding to many.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

God Bless you, I come. I am Jesus. I come to tell you that the Kingdom is God's Love. It is the inflowing of this Divine Essence that shall be the key that shall answer all of your questions and bring you to that place of harmony and peace of true knowledge and awareness. So simple, my beloveds, so simple. Yet this is the most powerful truth of all, to know of the love of God, to be in the flow of His Love, to walk in this Grace, to be humble and true within yourself. And in this quiet walking in the Light and love comes a strength and a faith that is beyond your understanding at this time. It builds and grows, it comes with this Light and shall continue to grow for all eternity.

Your souls long for this, my beloveds, you long for this. And in your prayers and in your efforts to receive these blessings, you will find your answers and you will receive as you long. This great desire within you must come to your consciousness and allow this to go to God. Speak it, feel it, know it. And in this acknowledgment of your true soul longings comes the blessing, the opening, the knowing.

Can you not feel this now, my beloveds? Do you not feel the opening of your souls, the warming within you, the peace surrounding you? This is what my brethren seek, and have sought for many years. This is what humanity longs for and so many do not know, cannot see, are blind and deaf, and mute. They only see with the faculties of their minds. But you, my beloveds, must see with the faculties of your soul. And this comes with the inflowing of the Father's Love. True sight, true knowing, true feeling comes in this way.

And you may read many books and ask many questions, my beloveds. But truly it is in this rapport with God, this holy communion that you find the answers you seek. What is written is just a pale, pale description of the truth. What you feel is what is real and true.

And upon this road, one must in time lay down all the error and all that which you have learned that is not in harmony with God's Love and in doing so you will know a joy beyond imagining. In doing so you will find your Heavenly Father in such a deep and powerful way that all that you have let go will matter not.

Walk in Love, my beloveds. Be that child of God and know that God is Love. Do not forsake the longings of your soul, the desires of your mind. But know that in time those two parts of you will come together in harmony. And when that comes you will walk a life that is powerful in truth and beauty and rich in experience in Love. This is available to all mankind, to all the souls in the world and all the souls in creation may receive this gift of Love. But it must be asked for. It does not come in any other way, but to say to God: "I long for Your Love, I long to receive Your Love" and in this true asking you shall receive in great abundance. No greater gift can you receive, no purer blessing, no more powerful a touch that shall change you from every part of your being.

God bless you, beloveds. I am Jesus, and I love you. This is my message and my message of Love needs to spread around the world. Speak this Truth, live this Truth, and you do my work. God bless you, my beloveds.

MESSAGE FROM MATTHEW FOR H

You have a purpose my son, and you know this and you long for this to manifest in your life. You are restless and this purpose will manifest in time for God has given you all that you require to do this work, this spiritual work. And it does remain a mystery in your consciousness but it will come in clarity and power and truth. Do not resist this. Observe the example of your dear sister, who has given up much to be a channel of God's Love in the world, and she does so willingly and in joy. And you are blessed, you are all blessed, with great potential and gifts which you do not recognize at this time. But God will show you the way. Be patient and be prayerful and that great mystery that lies within you shall come to Light and manifest in wondrous ways.

The world needs all those in Light and Love to come forth to bring change and equanimity and harmony into the world. And all are invited to this table to make that change to overturn the distortions and the error which mankind has for so long lived in and promoted and brought pain to so many.

The solutions will come with those who are willing to step forward and be God's channels of truth and Love. And the doubts and the fears will fall away with faith and love and all will manifest in harmony.

Each child here is beloved by God. Each is precious and filled with purpose and great ability and when you are willing to acknowledge this and walk with God, so you will change and so will your life. A dedication of purpose and love and service will manifest in wondrous and surprising ways. This cannot be if you do not know the Will of God and in order to know the Will of God you must receive this Divine Essence, His Essence, within you to open your souls and your perceptions so that you may hear that small voice within you that will guide you and show you the way.

Yes, this is challenging and possibly not what you expect. But it is an invitation for you to step forward to take this risk, to walk in Light in greater ways. And it does not cost you anything, my dear brother, to seek God and everything is given in return. Each soul here has a Light and gifts to give and love to give. You are all invited to know the will of God in your lives. It will be given if you are open to this. And although we use this instrument to speak to you in this way, each is capable of receiving this guidance within themselves. Ask and you shall receive, knock and the door shall be opened unto you and seek this Love and you will know the meaning of my words, what is meant, what is invited, what is shown.

I am Matthew and I love you, beloved souls, and I will be with you on your journey as you seek more, as your eyes open, as your hearts are full, I will be with you. God bless you, beloveds.

MESSAGE FROM ANDREW

God's grace envelopes you, my beloveds. His Love pours into your souls. And in this pure and beautiful place you are nourished and healed and inspired. So few places in the world are free from the human condition in such a way as this and you are blessed to be here, my beloveds, to have this time together in communion and fellowship. Let this pure and true peace be absorbed by you in every way. Allow God to touch your bodies, your souls, your spirits, your minds, to bring you deep and abiding peace. The stillness is so important for each soul to allow this peace that passes all understanding to open new avenues to God, bring nourishment for your bodies, allow your souls to expand and enter your consciousness.

Yes, this time together is for you, my beloveds, to nourish you. And be at peace, be truly at peace and know that God loves you, is with you, envelopes you, embraces you. We are able to accomplish so much when the mind is still. Allow your souls to be open and receptive. We bring gifts to each one of you. A blessing for each one unique and beautiful.

Be at peace and know that you are loved. God bless you, Andrew loves you as do many, many angels.

....as you are ready within yourselves to accept, to embrace and to move forward with this knowledge and with this insight which comes from the soul. And this will come more in a knowing and simple understanding as the soul mind embraces the truth and your minds allow this to be your truth, it is simple yet so powerful. What is incomprehensible to the mind is so clear to the soul. And as the Father's Love pours into you, the soul has capacity to understand, to truly understand, will expand and bring you what you require to walk God's path and know His Will and be in harmony with this.

Be at peace and know that you are loved. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM CONFUCIUS

Precious and beloved souls, it is Confucius. God bless you, beloveds.

We have been with you upon your journeys within your vehicle. We have been within that transport, sitting beside you (laughs). And at times we have influenced you to turn down certain roads so that you may see these animals, and we have influenced others to come to give you the message, to come to the watering holes. (laughs)

To walk through the world to be loving and accepting is a powerful testimony to the power of God's Love. And as you overcome the barriers within yourselves, so the power of this influence will be greater. You will find yourselves in situations that you may deem difficult, but indeed the Love will break down those barriers in the darkness and you will become more comfortable in these situations and allow the Love to flow.

Beloveds, you do God's work. Indeed each is unique. Each soul and personality. And this is a blessing from God, the uniqueness of the soul, the uniqueness of the individual. And like each flower in God's garden, appreciate the beauty within – see how God creates such beauty and no two are the same and you, my beloveds, are beautiful, indeed precious. And we will continue to accompany you upon your journeys. And God's loving hand is upon you, my beloveds. Does this not make your life rich bringing such deep meaning to every step that you take? Do you not gather up these experiences and hold them close and in so doing praise God for what He gives, each moment, each breath? For your lives are truly blessed and meaningful and filled with love. And do you not see how souls are drawn in so many ways? And there is a touch of Light and beauty, of comfort, of healing, of love given as you touch each soul.

May God carry you forward in this way in the flow of His Love going to every corner of this world with His Love. Your journeys will continue, my beloveds, do not resist this guidance to travel through this world. It is so important for you to be in these places and to love all those whom you are able to reach and this will expand and your journeys will become more complex and many more souls will be drawn into this enveloping Light. And with each day and each journey you will grow, become more powerful and clear channels of the Father's Grace in the world. This is so needed, my beloveds.

This is doing God's work, the work of our beloved Master, bringing these truths. For each day you bring forth this Truth because of who you are and how you are in this world. And indeed there will be times where you may speak these Truths of Love and you will feel impressed to do so to give in this way. To profit these little books, to bring food to the hungry, to speak in loving ways to those you meet. And in some ways these little conversations you may have with strangers seem trifling. But in other ways they are deep and meaningful. This is God's Love flowing through you. It is important. It has purpose. You touch many souls in this way.

So it is in your world. So many do not feel loved and are alone and you bring this message that they are loved and not alone. Be God's Lights, my beloveds. Do not allow your judgements to dim this Light. But embrace all in this simple way. And appreciate their own beauty, their uniqueness, and love them. For as you are a channel of Love in this way, you increase the capacity to love within you and the capacity for God to love others through you. Do not judge, but be as a child, innocent and loving.

Like the dear soul who patted this instrument's arm, his love was felt. Is he not a channel of God's Love? This simple and vulnerable child gave love. Bless the children. Bless all those who are willing to give love. Bless all those so down-trodden and lost. Bless this world which thirsts for love and is lost in such confusion and darkness. Bless humanity who were made in love and shall in some time find this Love. Bless those who are beacons of Love for they are the bell-toll that shall show the way to God and bring the comfort of the Truth and shall be God's Hands in the world, touching the lonely and the separate, the lost and those in great pain. Be God's hands, my beloveds, allow the Love flow through you. Listen to our guidance, be innocent and true and there will be great rewards for those willing and open and true to His Will.

God bless you, beloved, beloved children. May peace be with you always and His Love find a constant inflowing into your souls, beloved children. And your angel Confucius will be with you upon all of your journeys. For God has given me this purpose and blessing to be your guide, to be with you as you learn and grow as God's precious channels of Love. Beloved beloveds, I love you and will always be with you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

Beloveds, I come.

Such great joy I feel as you speak about the desire to serve your Heavenly Father. For is this not the essence of my teachings? Is this not the Path Divine? To serve your Heavenly Father in pure Love, in the Love that He gives, in the Love that flows through you as His servants, as His beautiful creations.

Yes, such great blessings are given to you my beloveds, because your soul's desire to serve God and to know His Love fully. Indeed, God desires for all His children to know His Love in this way. And could you but imagine what this world would be like if each soul desired to serve his brothers and sisters? To give of themselves in their own and unique beautiful ways to express their gifts in Light and love? To walk God's path of Love and to express this truth in pure and powerful ways. Indeed, you are leaders, my beloveds, for you aspire to the highest and in so doing you become a beacon of truth in the world. And though others may not recognize this or are confused, or feel the power but do not know what, from which this comes. Continue to walk your path, to express your truth in beautiful ways. And know that God acknowledges you. And this is what is important. And for you to know this, my beloveds, to know how much God loves you and sees your true selves in this knowing, in this knowing you will have great joy and peace. In this living of your truth, of God's Truth, you will do great works and life will become a joyful unfolding. And mysteries and surprises and miracles will be a part of this journey.

Follow God's Will with each day, my beloveds. My brothers and sisters, follow God's Will with each day, and you are assured to be accompanied by angels. And His Love will flow into your souls in ever increasing abundance. And this will unlock all of the truths you desire to know and will heal all the wounds that are within you and will erase all the doubt within your minds and you will change my beloveds, profoundly and beautifully. You will know your true selves within your life here on Earth. And when that life is complete you will know the great rapturous joy, ascending through the spheres with Light and Love.

Indeed, God lays before you a banquet with opportunities and possibilities to be His loving servant. It is but for you to open your eyes, to be willing and to affirm within your souls that you are walking the correct path and this is not difficult for you my beloveds, for the Love shines within your souls, shines brightly. All the resources that you require to do God's work are available to you and shall continue to flow to you. God's Will is mighty and powerful and beautiful and perfect. It is but for you to know this, to truly know this and walk in faith. It is faith that is a powerful element in the world, that comes with Love and you walk hand in hand in trusting faith, in loving acknowledgement to your Heavenly Father. Please continue to do so and you will do my work. You will live the truths that I taught. You will be the harbinger of change in the world and it is indeed your purpose. What you are meant to do. And I am joyed, as are all the angels, that you acknowledge this.

Though you may struggle in your minds to clarify this purpose and expressions of your soul, the mere fact that you are willing to struggle in this way, indicates the power of the Love within and the power of the truth that you carry. And you will resolve all of these inequities within yourself and walk in purity, simplicity and harmony. It is but a breath away, my beloveds, so very close. And indeed when all of your doubts and fears and confusions fall away from you, the work shall truly begin and the manifestations of that work and God's Love and Truth will turn the heads of many, my beloveds. You must be the Truth and the Love in this way, to be a leader in the world, a beacon of Light. Pray for this, beloveds, pray for this miracle of complete and true healing within and there will be no doubts, nothing to distract you. You will be unassailable by those who would detract from your efforts. You will be truly within the flow of God's Love and Will. This is great benediction of Love. It brings you to that place beyond the conditions of the world and you will be in the world but not of this world and you all give a resounding message to the beautiful souls, to all the hungry souls, to humanity. Reach for God. Reach for Love. Express Love. Express who you truly are and humanity will be moved given this choice, this opportunity to live in Truth for all eternity.

My beautiful brothers and sisters, my disciples, walk this Earth with your head held high knowing you are loved, you are truly loved and beautiful and you walk in Light. God bless you, my beloveds, God bless you. I am Jesus and you are my beloved brothers and sisters and my disciples. Journey forth and spread this Light. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM MARTIN LUTHER

I am Martin Luther, and I have come to reassure my brothers and sisters that God is indeed Love and loves each one of you dearly. And each one here knows God within their hearts, understands this Love and is open to its influence and blessing. Though within your minds you are indeed of different perspectives and understandings and experiences, yet within your souls you have an understanding that is common amongst you and this is that God does indeed love you and that His loving Essence is within you.

In my day, I tried to change the church. And I battled and railed against error and the corruption. And within my heart I knew that I was doing the right actions and saying the words to help change the conditions of the church. And I did bring reform and a new understanding. But there is always a greater understanding, my beloved brethren, a higher truth. A road which must be travelled to truly understand who you are, who is God, what is the meaning of this life and the meaning of the life that comes?

In prayer, in opening of your heart to your Heavenly Father, you will glean much understanding and awareness of the truth. And these beloved souls who come to you speak from their hearts a truth that is valuable and has much power to bring you close to God. For God enfolds you at this moment, God raises you up to a place of Light and peace and joy and love. Drink deep, drink deep my brethren, for those living waters of God's Essence flow to you and will flow into you as you open yourself to this, this transformative Love, this redeeming Love. This Love is beyond your mental understanding but is recognized by your soul, which craves this blessing and this shall be a desire which will be fulfilled for all eternity and in time you shall reside within the Kingdom of Heaven.

Walk this straight and simple path and God will bring you the answers you require, the comfort that you desire, the peace that you crave, the connection with your Creator which is indeed available to all souls who wish this. It will be obtained through your sincere prayer to receive.

My beloved brothers and sisters, go with God, go with God! And I await your entrance into the Celestial Kingdom which you surely shall enter if you believe my words. No church, no other being, no other man or woman, can bring this about. It is for you and your prayers and your efforts to be close to God that will accomplish this. A simple and powerful truth of Love given freely, given generously, and given to all who ask. Every soul in this world is worthy and in this way are equal and loved equally. Love your brothers and sisters, my brethren, love yourself, for the world is in great need of love and this will change this world and all the inequities will crumble, all the wrong doings will fall away and harmony will be in this world as it is in Heaven with the power of this Love.

I thank you for this time to speak and I pray that you will hear my words, and I will be with you in your prayers to seek your God in love and hope and joy, with great faith and trust. God bless you.

Your friend and brother Martin Luther has come with this word of encouragement and I thank you for this opportunity to speak, God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN THE BELOVED

I am John the Beloved.

Each of you desires to see the Truth, to understand the nature of life and the nature of your own being. To grasp these realities without confusion, to see clearly, to walk in this world with the perspective that will bring within you harmony and a deep understanding of this world and those you encounter in this world. And it is the mind which either allows the deeper reality to come into it and embrace it or to reject these awarenesses and this reality.

You are first and foremost spirits, my beloveds. And this spirit carries forth beyond this world and what ignites the spirit to life? It is the soul, this gift from God, this reflection of God within you. And what will further ignite the soul is the Love of God, the Essence of God, which is not a part of the soul at birth but can become a part with sincere prayer and longing to your Creator to receive this blessing of Love. And in so doing and receiving this blessing you will ignite and open the faculties of the soul, the sensibilities and the wisdom of the soul and you will then see these deeper realities, these greater truths, which are a part of life and God's creation.

And most men struggle in the world, to become aware and make sense of their lives and they see with their senses and assess with their mental faculties and attempt to create a truth through these aspects of their being and are often content with what they have cobbled together through their life experiences and the narrow education which they receive. But I tell you this is not nearly a fraction of the truth. It is merely a faint reflection of reality. Yet most of mankind accept this and live by these shallow and faint truths in the world and feel that they have mastered the truth, the reality, the understanding of the universe. Yet, they delude themselves. They walk in a darkened world, senses dimmed, mind barely functioning.

Yet offered to all mankind, to all souls in the world, are the possibilities of truly opening and understanding and gleaning great truths and awarenesses and knowledge through the opening of the soul to God's Love. For is it not God that created all of the universe and all universes and realities in their many dimensions and complexities? And God has given you the ability to understand this through your soul faculties with His Essence igniting and expanding these abilities within you, these gifts laid within your souls, dormant and small yet waiting to expand and embrace the truth.

It is your choice my beloveds. And each of you within your souls is eager to absorb and know these realities, to know God, to know yourselves. And you are young and tender shoots, which will in time become great and mighty oaks. Beautiful Lights in God's universe. And this journey of growth and discovery of love and truth takes time, each day a step further and closer, each breath propelling the growth within. Be thankful my beloveds, for what is given and be hopeful for what shall be given and what is possible within you and be open to God's loving hand upon you and you will find your way.

Though you walk in a forest that is dim and oppressive at times, you shall come into that glade of open sunlight, beautiful flowers, peaceful and filled with God. It comes, it is yours for the asking. It is yours with each step you take towards it and it will reveal to you all the secrets, all the answers, all that you desire to know. And all that is in you that is bitter and disappointed and hurt will fall away and you will truly know what Heaven is, what joy is, what life is. Such blessings await for the asking. For that small effort to be open to allow yourselves to let go of that which is not in harmony with God's Love and to accept that, which is in harmony. It comes ever closer.

My beloveds, continue in your prayers and efforts to be with God and you will discover God and you discover your true selves and all that which lies within you, such great ability and gifts and beauty will be revealed and will be a conscious knowing and expression of yourselves.

Bless you, my beloveds. I am John the Beloved and I love you and I care for you and I am close to you. Bless you, beloved souls, bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

God bless you my beloveds, I come. It is Jesus.

Blessed are you who bring love into your hearts. Blessed are you who express love in all that you do in your lives and all that you are in your beings. God has His hands upon you, my beloveds, and you are guided and protected in your lives. Do not bring fear into your consciousness but walk in the sure knowledge that your Heavenly Father guides and protects you, my beloveds.

Your father and husband is protected and blessed. For you bring this condition of Love in your home and in your lives as you beseech your Heavenly Father to receive His great powerful Love which influences all about you and all around you and all within you. You are blessed. Walk with this faith and knowledge, act in the flow of your Father's Love and guidance, be in peace and act with Love when you know within yourselves you walk in this sure knowledge and guidance.

My beloveds, when you are guided in this way, when God's Will manifests through you, it is both gentle and powerful, clear and all things are possible, when God manifests through you, my beloveds. The only thing which will inhibit this is your minds which doubt. Allow these doubts to fall and walk this simple path, the trust in your Father and His Will.

And many doors will open my beloveds, many possibilities yet dreamed of will manifest in wondrous ways. Do not worry for the material, do not worry for your own being. And when you touch those who are diseased do not worry, you are protected. And when you comfort those in distress know that the comfort reaches them in a deep way and when you see the great deprivation in the world, know that God will bring solutions to these dreaded conditions. Though they may seem complex and hopeless, through God's Will all will be resolved, and though you may not see the results of your efforts in an immediate way this will manifest in time. Solutions will be found.

Remember, my beloveds, you come as a beacon of Light and an example for those who follow. And so in this way must trust in God's Will and what manifests through His Will in the world. And in this great faith, much will be accomplished and many souls will be saved from the darkness and the deprivation in this world.

Beloveds, beloveds... you do my work for my work is God's Will. In your own inner knowing have faith that God will guide you. And for all those who would detract from this and bring criticism, say a prayer for them, my beloveds, love them. For they feel the power of God's Will within you. And this brings a fear and an unknowing within them. And in this lost way they will lash out at you, but they can only hurt if you believe them. That is their only weapon, and the negative forces of the world would have you turn away from the Light. But you are securely within God's embrace and you walk with many angels.

How can you be hurt in this way? You cannot and you will not. You will be stronger and wiser and more loving with each day that passes and when you are tested ask your Heavenly Father to guide you through, to bring you what you require to be strong, to have the wisdom to make your way through these trials and tribulations in life. The wisdom within you, the perceptions within you are growing and you will see more clearly, my beloveds. What is a mystery to you now, will soon be clear. You will know and what remaining doubts there are within you will fall away and those fears and petty anger will fall away from you, my beloveds. You will know deep joy, abiding peace and great love for all humanity. This is the promise of God's Love and it shall be fulfilled within your lifetimes, my beloveds. You will walk the Path Divine in great Light and freedom. It is yours already. It is but for you to truly acknowledge this and go in all and every way you can and will walk in Love. So few are blessed in this way, my beloveds, in this world.

My disciples, you will walk through many lands in this world bringing the message of Love. Your very presence does indeed fulfill this purpose. Your very beings are an example of Love. Raise yourselves up to this place. Accept this blessing. Walk in the world but not of the world, my beloveds. And you shall fulfill your purpose and find your place within the flow of God's great Will and Desire for the redemption of mankind. There is a plan, you come close to finding your place within this. Be open and receptive and the route will be short to that place of sure knowing.

I love you. You are my brothers, my sisters, and for all eternity we shall know great joy and happiness in the Celestial Kingdom together. This is your destiny for truly you are already redeemed by the Father and you shall grow ever closer to the Celestial Kingdom. Beloveds, I love you and I shall never leave you, never. God bless you. Your brother Jesus loves you, bless you.

MESSAGE FROM CONFUCIUS

(The large dog "Bello" crashed through the door loudly and entered the room, wanting to sit close. H took him back to the main house and upon returning, Confucius came and gave the following message.)

Even the beast is drawn to the Light, my beloveds. (laughs)

Yes, you do the Father's Will and the Master's work in this world. It requires from you a great deal, a willingness to move in this flow of Light and love in ways that may not appear clearly to your mind, but is indeed part of the flow and unfolding of the Father's plan for the salvation of mankind. Your purpose, my beloveds, is to ignite others in the world, to teach others, to be that one central point of flame that shall bring Light and light many candles. My beloveds, this is a great purpose and you should not feel it as a burden but a joyful blessing to you from your Heavenly Father.

So much work to do, my beloveds. Yes you will be required to travel to many places and it will be difficult not to stay in one place to see through and find the completion of the efforts that are started. This will be difficult but it is required that you continue in your journeys and walk the Truth in loving acceptance. When you are ready and have come to that place of faithful obedience to our Father's Will and your minds have become subservient to the minds of your souls, then you will be ready and your soul will carry you with that consciousness that resonates with the consciousness of God.

Be at peace, my beloveds, and know that you come very close to that time of great work and the fulfillment of God's mighty plan. It comes very close. Pray for God to heal you of all obstructions that may inhibit the flow of this Love. Do not let anything stand in your way. For many will cast dispersions upon your efforts and you cannot listen to these voices of humanity that are lost and confused who do not understand the true purpose of a soul's yearning and flowering in the Love. You must follow the path which God has laid before you and trust in His great and mighty wisdom which will guide you in ways yet unfamiliar to you, but will truly manifest in powerful ways. Listen, my beloveds, know the Will of God. And as this knowledge becomes sure and palpable you will know in a way that is unmistakable the presence of the angels and the voice of God. Continue to pray for the Love of God to flow into your souls and continue to beseech your Heavenly Father to show you the way, continue to ask that this great healing within you continues and is fulfilled so that you may be truly free from the conditions of humanity and truly know the way.

And in this we shall do a mighty work that shall reverberate through many, many centuries upon this world and bring peace and bring Light to this beautiful world and this Light shall reverberate out into the universe. This is God's doing, my beloveds. Be His humble servants. You must know the voice of God and you will, you will and you do.

Bless you, my beloveds.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

God Bless you, my students. I am your teacher Augustine.

There comes a great period of change in the world. Crumbling of the old and the bringing in of the new. And the great efforts made to assist you to come to the level of awareness and love are made in preparation for this time of change and flux within the world. The angels put forth great effort on your behalf, my beloveds, and many others in the world to bring them to that place of clear consciousness of understanding what it is that they must do to be a part to shift the world from such terrible darkness and confusion and error to a place of Light and peace and love.

It is a mighty work and it will be indeed a great demand upon your persons but it will be a great fulfilling venture of joy and love, of unfolding, awareness and acts of Love. To be chosen in this way, my beloveds, is a great blessing for you and indeed each is part of this great plan, and there are many, who have chosen this work before they have even incarnated into the world. To have a clearer understanding is indeed a blessing. Being forewarned of what is to come, gives you responsibility and power to prepare yourselves to be in that condition of spiritual awareness and Love. To know that you have dedicated yourself to your Heavenly Father and to be open to whatever God wishes for you to do in this world. This is not a life normally lived, nor common in the world. This is exceptional and uncommon. And in this many look at you in confusion or anger and not understand, but you must be strong enough to allow these onslaughts of judgement to fall away. Indeed as your Master has said, to be in this world but not of the world, for the world is destined to slough off these worldly conditions created by man and to exist in a different way. A way more in harmony with God's Laws and Love. And in these transitions there is great pain and resistance but it is God's Will, this must come about. And you, my beloveds, you have come to usher in this new world. And you know this from deep within you, you know this. Be at peace. Enjoy this life for what it has to give and know what comes is greater life and greater gifts.

Beloveds, you are being called and within your souls you rejoice in this calling. And this opening of your purpose, this opening shall be wider with each day as your souls are filled with the Love and you come to understand this bigger picture, this greater calling and purpose. And as I say others are being called – many others. And you, my beloveds, will bring clarity to them, many others who in turn, will bring Light to many others and this Light will spread. And the will of mankind will harmonize with the Will of God, in time.

Do not place great expectations upon this, but merely follow your guidance with each day that comes and many surprises await and opportunities and doors will open. Oh, my beloveds, brothers and sisters, we in Heaven rejoice for these opportunities of great unfolding of the Father's Will in this world. For too long has mankind suffered so and lived in darkness. It is time to raise your brothers and sisters up.

The truth to all who are willing to listen, to walk in this world as examples and beacons of Light. And everywhere that you go you are being noticed, my beloveds, there is something which you bring which awakens within the soul of another. That something is God's Love.

Continue to walk in this world in this innocent way going about your life, being gentle and kind and generous, loving and engaging. In this way God will use you to touch another soul, to touch many souls. I am so very pleased with your efforts and your dedications, and I will be with you as you walk upon this world. And I will make my attempts to teach you, support you and love you. God bless you, my beloved students, and may you always walk in Light. Augustine loves you dearly.

MESSAGE FROM JAMES

God bless you, it is James, the apostle and I come to reassure you, my beloveds, that you are upon the correct path in your lives and what you do and who you are and how you express God's Love in your lives will have profound impacts upon many. Continue in these efforts. Beseech your Heavenly Father for guidance with each day and make those efforts to be in good spiritual condition that you may be receptive to this guidance and the flow of God's Love through you and about you. And in this way what is required for you to express your efforts in the world as God's channels of Love will be provided and given in abundance. There is no need for worry or concern but be sure that you are indeed guided and you are strong in the flow of this Love.

My daughter, all will be provided for your efforts with those lost souls, all will be provided. Be receptive to your guidance and consider what is required for you to do this work. And it is not a sin to ask for assistance. For you spread the blessings for those who can assist you. They too are blessed in this effort, they too receive joy and a sense of accomplishment and this is a gift, this is a gift.

These poor and lost souls are a gift to all of you for they allow you to open the doors of love and compassion, and wisdom. To show them the way out of their dilemmas, to assist them in their efforts to struggle from a dark place to a place of Light. And it is important to feed those who are lost, for in the feeding, in this giving there is a blessing given to each soul and the nourishment is blessed by the angels, a healing through it to assist the physical.

And when you touch those who are lost and dying and afraid, you bring comfort. When you pray with them, you bring healing and love. And how much you benefit by this, my daughter, and for all those who assist you in this effort, benefit as well. A gift, a blessing. Continue in your efforts. And continue to replenish yourself, to make those times of quietness to be with God. For even our Master Jesus in his ministry took time for replenishment, to be with his Heavenly Father, to gain greater insight, to be guided and shown.

Do not feel that this is not a gift as well to have these times, for they are a gift and a blessing. You will find your rhythm in life and you come very close to your purpose, my daughter. Be at peace, be at peace and know how greatly you are loved. How you become an example for many to express God's Love in this world.

And all of you bring Love wherever you go. How many in this world do so and how many in this world need this? And this flow of Love will intensify and become purer, will have great effect on those you meet and what you do in this world. As you walk in faith in this way there will be a great response from others, a crying out. Have compassion and patience. For even those who cry out in rejection are only expressing the pain within which they long to have healed and they see within you the wondrous effects of Love, the serenity and the flow of healing and comfort.

And for some they cannot withhold this cry of pain for they recognize that deep well within you that is of Love. Have compassion. Be generous, do not judge but love, be joyous in your work. And walk this Path Divine in great faith and trust. God will guide you as He has done and will continue to do so. And every angel who has spoken to you, my beloveds, brings this message, assures you, that you do indeed walk with God and you are not in the wilderness, you are not alone but with God and His angels. And He brings the brothers and the sisters together to affirm and reassure one another of this truth, and what a blessing that God carries His children around the world to come together in harmony and Love.

God bless you my beloveds, your brother James is with you. And I am with you my daughter when you feed the children, when you care for the sick and the elderly, when you bring your love into this world and many others are with you in this effort and it is blessed. And many feel drawn and compelled to support you, my daughter, in this world. Accept this support, accept their love and know that this is a gift from God.

God bless you and God is with you. His Love burns within your souls and carries you into His bosom in loving care. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM MARY – MOTHER OF JESUS

God bless you and I love you. When you do love the children, the innocent ones who wander aimlessly without love and nurturance, you do God's work. And it is important to feed those who are lost, for in the feeding, in this giving there is a blessing given to each soul and the nourishment is blessed by the angels, a healing through it to assist the physical. When you love these children you do great work for God who loves all His children. Continue to embrace the lost ones, the orphans, the hungry, the sick. So much need, so much deprivation. But love heals all and God's Love will attract the healing and what is required to nurture the lost souls. Continue to be in the Love to seek your guidance to be with God and in this the angels will be with you and all that you require will be given. Beloved, beloved souls, bless you for your efforts in your desire to bring Light in this world, bring healing and comfort. You are my children and I am well pleased with your efforts to be pure and gracious channels of Love in this world. I am Mary and I love you.

MESSAGE FROM MARTIN LUTHER

God bless you, I am Martin Luther and I come to say some last words of encouragement for you, my brethren.

In my day I was a reformer, I brought change to the church, and many whom were within the structure of the church resisted my efforts to bring a clearer understanding of what it is to seek God. Yet I persisted and in this persistence I gained greater support and I weathered the storms from those about me who would have me stop my efforts. Yet within my heart I knew the truth. I understood that the old rituals and the old ways could not persist for they had become hollow and without meaning. There needed to be change, there needed to strike within the hearts of my brethren, a feeling for God – rather than rituals being performed again and again without meaning or feelings.

And today there is a need for reform within the minds of mankind for they have lost sight of God. They do not see the benefits, the Love, the blessings that are available to them through their prayers beseeching to God to bring to them what they require within their souls, this great Divine Essence is the highest of Truths, the most powerful of blessings.

So my brethren, you become the reformers, you bring the message the new way for the tired souls who perform the rituals and the beliefs which are hollow. The understandings within the minds of so many merely pertain to the material world, yet the development of the soul lags far, far behind in these idle pursuits of pleasure and accumulation.

Do you not see how important it is to bring reform to mankind? And how just one man can bring great change, one person, with dedication in their heart and a clear knowledge of the truth within their minds and souls can bring reform? Continue to persist in this effort to bring the truth of God's Love to the world. And when those storms of anger and rejection come, be true to your God and know that you are loved and not alone. Indeed your family grows and those who would support you will be there in these efforts to walk the Earth and bring the change which will bring greater harmony to this world.

Walk with your head high my friends and know that I, Martin Luther, stands with you and I will lend my strength, my love to help you bring change in the world. Reform is needed everywhere. Change is a constant in the world. Walk with God. Be prayerful and have faith and you will succeed. You will succeed to do God's Will in this world and within your lives. So much work awaits and so little time to express this change; to stir within the consciousness of mankind... the understanding that change is necessary. That their ways bring great disruption and disharmony to the world. Their thoughts are powerful as are yours, my friends. Always think in positive ways, always have God in your consciousness and be strong. Be strong and God will bless you mightily. As you go about your lives with this desire for Light and change, grace and harmony, Love from God. Bless you, each one. Precious souls in the eyes of God. Bless you and may you be within that flow of His Love always. Your friend Martin Luther is with you in your efforts. Bless you and I love you.

MESSAGE FROM JAMES PADGETT

God bless you, it is James Padgett. I wish to thank you my daughter for making these efforts to speak the words that came through me all those years ago and to encourage others to do so. And indeed you are following the guidance that is given in this great effort to bring the truth to mankind for this effort will come from many different directions. There will be creative ways in which they will be expressed and this will be but one way and for you to comply with this guidance and to put these efforts forth is a great gift and you will be blessed as you pursue this project and you will find that many others will want to support you, for the angels work on each one to help to bring about the completion. And I would encourage you and say that it will go more swiftly than you imagine and will not be a great burden upon you.

Bless you for your efforts my dear sister H, and for all the efforts all of you make to bring the truth of God's Love to mankind. Your dedications and your love in the way that you are able to follow your guidance and you see how God puts you on the right path and the barriers fall away and the gifts are given in abundance. This is an indication that you are following God's Will. How seemingly insurmountable situations are resolved and difficulties seem to melt away. This is how God works in the world and though at times you may feel impatient and you would like the timing of such matters to be quicker, it is important to follow the Will of God and the timing of God. For what seems like a great deal of time to you is hardly a blink of the eye for God. Have patience and perseverance as our dear friend Martin Luther indicates, that strong consistent effort, that dedication and love will see you through and allow God to work through you. And God will always light the way. It is for you to open your eyes and see that lit path and walk along it in faith and trust, and dedication and love for your Heavenly Father.

Bless you for your efforts and your friend James Padgett is with you as you express the Will of God in your lives. God bless you and keep you in His care and Light. My love is with you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN THE BELOVED

I am John, John the Beloved.

Indeed, the winds of change blow through all of your lives and shall continue to do so. As the changing conditions of this world bring about a response by each one to adjust their lives, to bring greater harmony within their beings. And as God's Love flows within your souls you will find the right road, you will know the steps to be taken.

The soul knows the journey to take and exerts its will within you. Yet you have the gift of free will, my beloveds. It is your choice. Indeed the mind makes great effort to rationalize the desire of the soul. The mind makes great effort to understand the nature of God and the nature of life and its meanings and purpose. Yet these questions are answered within your souls, my beloveds. The true answers lie within that place and the true journey begins in the discovery of the soul and that discovery is ignited by the inflowing of the Divine Essence within.

You each have your journeys to take, you each have your unique questions to ask, and in your unique journeys you will find the answers. They will flow and unfold as you make your prayers to your Heavenly Father. And you consider what it is that you truly desire, what you need, where you must go, how you must act. And if you ask your minds these questions you will receive a response that is based on speculation and information gleaned by others, information they have put within your mind, so you act in some ways through the will of others, through the understanding of others. And I ask you is this being true to yourself?

Yes, we in spirit do guide all of you and we help you to come to these conclusions from that place deep within you and we encourage you go to your Heavenly Father to ask for the sustenance you require that will give you these answers that will open the door of understanding, that will carry you to Light and enlightenment. Each journey is unique, each soul is unique. And each soul must take its own journey. But the truth, my beloveds, stands on its own. And will always stand. And it is for you to discover, to truly take within yourselves and hold it dear, these precious jewels of truth and express this in your lives and your beings.

This is your responsibility with the gift given of life to seek the Truth, to live the Truth, to seek who you really are and who God really is. And when these understandings flower and flourish within you, you will then become God's channel of Light and Love in the world. God beckons you all upon this road. When you partake of this journey, it is your choice, the timing where you begin, how you begin. But all is given with the clear desire to begin, to know, to understand.

And God knows your desires before you know them, God responds to your prayers before you utter them, for your soul and the great soul of God are in communion. And it is for you to discover this, to know this relationship, to understand it, to exercise it, to benefit your soul growth and the unfolding of your true selves. Walk in joy, beloved souls, and know that you are truly loved, and this Love is infinite and will carry you for all eternity, to at-onement, ecstatic beyond your imaginings, my beloveds.

So as these gentle breezes caress your flesh think of them as the breath of God and upon that breath is Love. God bless you, I am John the Beloved and I am very pleased to see you together in prayerful communion with God. And you will come together, my beloveds, for further prayer and conversations and in time you will work together to help to usher in the changes that are required for humanity to know peace, to be in harmony in this world. Yes, the ways and means are a mystery to you now, but in time all will be revealed, nothing left to chance other than your desire and will and choice.

God bless you and keep you upon the Path Divine, my beloveds, and carry you far into lands unknown to you now, both within you and on this Earth. A wondrous journey of discovery, surprise, joy and deep understandings which will be revealed to you with God's Light within. Blessed are you, beloveds. Be at peace and know that you are being guided. All is well, all is well.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

It is your brother and friend Jesus.

I come to bless you upon your journeys. I come to encourage you to walk in the Light and listen to your inner promptings. I come to say that I am with you. I come to encourage you to uphold the truth of Love, of God's Love, and to live this with each day of your lives. I come to tell you that much awaits you. Each one here has a wondrous journey to take and a purposeful life to live. God's hand is upon you. He will guide you and the angels will be with you, my beloveds. And may His Love find a constant inflowing into your souls and remove all that stands in your way from fulfilling your purpose and finding the true source of all life and all goodness and all power and all joy, all this awaits. Open yourselves to this blessing. God bless you, your brother Jesus loves you. Walk with me and I will light the way. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JOHN

And a blessing upon you, my beloveds, for your efforts to bring Light into this place, to draw the lost souls together that they may be nurtured and given shelter and love and comfort. Blessings to you, my beloveds, for your prayers for them and your prayers for yourselves and for this world. Yes indeed this world is in need of prayer and every soul upon it may benefit from this. And you will teach the prayer, how to pray, how to focus, how to reach out for the love of God, and this, my beloveds, is your purpose in this gathering. And in between those times of prayer you may talk about your experiences with God and the growing of your souls and the opening of your consciousness to the laws of God, to the laws of love, and be a testimony towards these truths.

Bring love through, my beloveds, and as you prepare this place you bring greater love, greater Light and more possibilities for what is to come. Indeed, you have all had your visions as to what is to come in your lives, in the places where you reside, and the places you desire to travel to; and that which is within the flow of God's Love will manifest in harmony and doors will open that will make possible your efforts and gifts and purpose in the world.

Indeed, it is not easy to walk in faith, to walk trusting that each day your Heavenly Father will put your footsteps where they are meant to be. But as you continue to grow in the Love and grow your faith and open your eyes and learn the truths which your Heavenly Father blesses you with and allows you to see, then you will understand why each day is a gift, why each footstep is necessary and is followed by another and another. This gradual awakening, this gradual enlightenment is the sure road to at-onement with God, and may feel at times tedious or slow, but you grow with each step, each breath, and that awakening, my beloveds, is swift in terms of the measure of eternity – is very swift.

And indeed the pace quickens and you all feel yourselves on the verge of something, and you are, and there will be much unfolding and opening and developing within your lives, my beloveds. The small and brief connection that you have together at this time and these efforts to bring the lost souls into prayer and Light, this is but a small portion of what is to come. And as you grow and are prepared and ready, the work which will be laid before you will be mighty and beautiful.

Blessings to you, my beloveds. I am John and I will be with you in your efforts to pray with the beautiful souls who are coming and you will learn through this experience and there will be an opening for you, my beloveds, as for them, a learning, a growing and you will come closer the way you are meant to do in this world as you see these efforts unfold and evolve and open to the will of God.

Continue to pray together, to walk together as brothers and sisters in the flow of God's Love and God will lead you to many beautiful places within yourselves and within this world. Feel the joy of this, my beloveds, feel the anticipation, the eagerness, the desires of your souls, to bring Light and change and healing to this world, for in this joy and this enactment of love you will find your own salvation and the release of all that which is not in harmony with God's Love. It will come and it will flow in great abundance through you and around you to many, many who await your service, the flow of your love, God's Love – many await. Walk in love and Light and know that God guides you and brings you to that place of true knowing, of sure progress on the Path Divine. God bless you and I am with you in your efforts, I am John. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

And they will fill this building and the hosannas will rise to God. Guidance will be given concerning this place when the time is right. Continue in your efforts, work towards this fulfilling of God's Will and purpose. You will find your way, my beloveds. This will come in short measure and in full measure. God bless you and keep you within the flow of His Love. I am Augustine and I love you, God bless you.

Message received on March 24, 2015 in New York

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

My beloved souls, it is your teacher, Augustine. So we embark on another adventure together, which will in time open up into a whole entire chapter and many series of events which you will not anticipate but will unfold as the Will of God manifests in your lives and in this place. Do not try and anticipate these events but accept and go upon your guidance, allow this flow of God's Will to manifest as it should be in all its beauty and grace and perfection. Indeed, this instrument has thanked God for all the series of events that have brought him and his dear mate here. And this is an insightful prayer of gratitude for many things, many acts and actions had to take place for you to arrive at this very moment, and the angels indeed are kept very busy to orchestrate many, many things in this world and at times to allow the results to take place that are required may take circuitous routes and more time than anticipated and different players.

For in this world there is no sure path, for the power of free will buffets the enactment of God's Will, turns and twists this flow of the power of God's Will and the power of God's Love is greater than all the power of man's will. But the laws of cause and effect, of free will, of creation, must be obeyed. And so outcomes are not altogether predictable nor can they manifest in a predictable order. But in time it does manifest, for God does see all and anticipates all and in this way He inspires His angels and the spirits and the many who wish to serve Him to act in this world and the world of spirit to bring about the desired results.

So, my children, there is fate and yet there is no fate. There is an end result which may take many, many years and generations and lifetimes to bring about. But the Will of God is enacted in time, and to have willing souls like yourselves, my beloveds, who are willing to obey the Will of God, this is a treasure in this world, beloveds. To have the direct and clear enactment of God's Will through you is truly a gift to the world. It is not obscured by a lack of understanding of the truth, it is not obscured by a soul that is not ignited by God's Love and together the enlivened soul and the willing spirit may bring about miracles, manifestations of God's Will in this world.

So you see, when you see the injustices and the extreme perversions of life, and the innocence of those who are the victims of the great power of mankind's free will, and the sin and error mounted one upon the other for generations and generations and this dark condition which attempts to pull all the souls into it to have those who seek to be unencumbered by these conditions, who wish to manifest God's Will and are strong enough because they possess the greatest gift possible – that of God's Love. Then we can work in wondrous ways to eradicate this darkness, to bring about harmony and love and pull the innocent souls away from the dark oppressive conditions and influence through you those who are in pain, lost and suffering and through you the truth can be told, and the invitation can be given.

Seek ye the Heavenly Father, open yourselves up to His Love, and as these lost and needy souls open themselves in this way, you are there to love and embrace them, to reassure them that they will overcome those conditions which keep them in pain.

So, my beloveds, we do indeed begin a new chapter, a new door opens with many possibilities and events to unfold, and all that is required of you, my beloveds, is to step through that door one step at a time, to walk in faith and know that God does have a plan which will bring an end to this great suffering world and bring forth peace and harmony, a redemption of mankind.

And you, my beloveds, within your souls know that you have a part to play, a role, a journey, and an unfolding, manifestation of your true soul's gifts. Ah, my beloveds, how we rejoice to know that you have chosen Light, that you wish to do God's Will, that you are willing to be a channel of His Love and Light that will change the world and push back the darkness.

Every day brings its challenges and its opportunities and every day that you overcome that which would hold you back into the human condition, we rejoice when you turn to Light, when you aspire to the highest, when you beseech your Heavenly Father to receive His Love. We rejoice and we walk with you as you walk down this Lighted path of great possibilities, of wondrous events as God's Will unfolds within your lives.

My beloveds, bless you. Know that you are truly loved and within God's care. Be at peace and know what you do here is one more step in the manifestation of God's Will and rejoice in this, my beloveds. Rejoice in this. For he who serves God is mightily blessed. In the giving comes a receiving. In this learning and growing comes strengthening. In the Love comes the sure knowledge of truth and the joyous reunion with your Heavenly Father. Carry on, my beloveds, carry on. A great road lies ahead and much to do and many blessings to be had by you and by so many others. God bless you, your teacher Augustine loves you and is with you often in your efforts. Bless you.

MESSAGE FROM GOLDIE

Bring the daffodils into the room and there will be joy and laughter amongst you! I will ensure this. My dear brother, why are you like a man who walks from one piece of ice to another in a river that flows so swiftly? Why do you not seek solid ground, and make life easier for yourself? God will open the doors and bring you to that place where you are not in jeopardy of falling into the cold waters. You must trust in your guidance, where you will be led and given reprieve and joyful, joyful life. But you must allow God to guide you. Ask for help, and know that when you do, help will be given.

Be clear in your thinking, my beloved brother, for you help many now, but in the future this will be magnified many times. But you must find stability so that you may grow in the Love in a more full way. Bless you, brother. How many smiles you put on faces, my brother, and bring comfort to so many. Bless you brother, for God loves you so and wants everything to make a life good and strong for you.

Goldie loves you and will be with you in your prayers with the souls who come together, and many, many spirits will be with you. Continue to prepare the place and we will walk with you and sing with you as you work. Blessings to you, Goldie loves you.

MESSAGE FROM ANDREW

I am Andrew. Every soul has deep and abiding pain and wounds within. Every soul we meet, every individual who walks this Earth is injured by the conditions created by mankind over millennia of error and abuse and suppression. Whether that soul be in poverty and deprivation or in great wealth, there is need for healing, there is need for comfort, for love, and as such, no matter where you turn there is an opportunity to be a channel of Love.

For even those with smiles on their faces carry within them deep hurt and the unfulfilled longing for love. For some, this is quite apparent; for others it is hidden very deeply. So you see, the work ahead is tremendous in its scope, and one man or one woman cannot heal or save the world. It is God's work.

But each soul who is willing to be a channel of Love, to reach out to the injured soul and bring the message of hope and healing, of reassurance and comfort and love, they become God's instruments in this world. But in order to be a clear channel of Love one must be healed within to allow the love of God to do its work, and to do so in a conscious way, to make those choices that do not further injure yourself or others, to be strong within your souls, to be strong within your heart, your loving heart and to be disciplined within your mind to bring harmony within yourself, to bring Love within yourself, and to be that channel of Love for the world, an example and beacon of Light.

Walk this world in harmony my dear children.... Reach for the highest, walk the high road and as you do so and make this choice, so crucial in your lives to receive God's Love and to live in harmony with Love and His creation and laws of Love as you make this effort you will be supported by the angels, God's Love will be upon you.

But do not delude yourself my children, each carries pain, there is no freedom without the complete and beautiful healing within that comes with God's Love. And yes, you are all a work in progress. You all struggle to overcome those things within you which keep you from God and we understand this. We see within your hearts and souls that which you hide away even from yourselves, and we pray for this deep healing to close the wounds to bring the whole and beautiful flower of your true selves. And it comes, with each step comes and with each step something is released with each test you will let go of your fears and your deep pain. So it is that we in spirit, your guardian angels, support you and help you when you desire to raise yourself above the conditions of this world and to be in that beautiful Light, that ascendancy of your beings to walk as God's channel of Love.

Yes, you are imperfect, but still loved, fully and completely and you shall find your goal of complete healing and wholeness and deep and abiding joy and release from the heavy conditions of the world. But you must make this effort to receive God's Love, to be honest with yourselves and to be open to God's guidance which will lead you out of the darkness into the Light. It is not easy to look deep within yourself to pull back the hurt where that pain exists hiding in the shadows, but it must be done and God's Love will wedge this dark and heavy thing from its hiding place and may your tears and your anguish dissolve in God's Love. Ask your heavenly father to take this from you and God will respond with His healing Love and replace the barriers with love and peace and with a deeper knowing and joy.

These efforts to heal within have great consequences for your life and your future life in spirit where every soul, whether they walk the natural path or the Divine Path are obligated to release conditions which are not in harmony with the higher spheres of life, and this process must be complete. Whether it is done through the long and tedious road of the natural path or the powerful and dynamic road of God's Love, the Divine Path.... You will be shown the way, my beloveds.

Every day brings a new test and a new reward and a new opportunity to grow and expand in this Love. And some days you feel the heaviness of this pain, while other days you are light-hearted And this remains a mystery to you, my beloveds, why is this so? The conditions within your soul flare up into your consciousness and cause you distress at times, a reminder that there is more healing to be done. Desire to be completely in God's Love; the process of expiation of the soul must be part of your journey.

This is the truth, my beloveds. And you must be truthful with God, to acknowledge those parts which hold you down, to acknowledge that in order to be that clear channel of Love those elements within which block the passage, which inhibit the Love, must be cleansed.

Every soul must take this journey as I say. What process you choose, or route you take will determine how quickly and effectively this healing is accomplished. And of course we urge you to take the Divine Path, to walk in this way as fully as you are able, to be in God's Grace and in this way all that you require you will be given, generously, abundantly, and effectively to accomplish this task of inner healing and which will lead to this great role as God's great channel of Love.

Bless you my beloveds, bless you. I am Andrew and I pray for each one of you that there be such a mighty inflowing of Love within your souls that all of that which remains there which is not in harmony with this Love shall be forced out by it. Beloveds, we stand on the verge of a great awakening and healing that God wishes to give you, all of you. Will you open yourselves to this in a complete and vulnerable way? Be with God, as you never have been before.

The door is open, my beloveds. The door is open. And we will be with you in your gathering. And remember that it does not require great numbers to bring love and Light to this world, it requires a yearning soul in prayer – in harmony with one another, and there will be many in spirit with you and surrounding you in this venture to bring Light to this place, this part of the world, and there will be many souls, yearning spirits surrounding you. And though on the surface this may appear to be a humble venture, in many ways it is a powerful and beautiful venture. Thank you for being willing to step into this arena and be servants to your Heavenly Father in this way. You will all be blessed and we will be there to pray with you. God bless you, your brother Andrew loves you dearly. God bless you.

Share with one another your longings and your thoughts, your prayers and your love and in this you will all receive blessings of healing and comfort and love.

There is much to discover my beloved, beautiful souls. Allow yourselves the opportunity to be open to this, to put aside your judgments and fears, to be as little children, bathing in these beautiful waters of God's Love enjoying the warmth of the sun, smiling and expressing the purity of life. You are all brothers and sisters together. Be radiant and joyful and I will be with you in your time together and come to speak to you once more.

God bless you beloved, beautiful souls. You are all precious in God's sight. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM PETER

I am Peter and I come to pray with you as you gather together and to be together in fellowship. Your Heavenly Father eagerly awaits your prayers and the abundance of His Love awaits its bestowal within your souls, an infinite Love and this my beloved children is what your souls long for, desire, crave, and this is what your souls were created for, to receive this Essence of God, to be ignited by this blessing, to feel the passion of Love burning bright within you, my beloveds. Open yourselves. Send your longings to God and God will respond in powerful ways, beyond your imaginings, my beloveds, beyond your present understandings and beyond the limitations of your mind's awareness. God will carry you to places unimaginable and you will feel the peace that passes all understanding. You will know Him with such intimacy and awareness that these things cannot be described, but experienced from that deep place from within you. The angels surround you, my beloveds. They are with you in prayer and at this moment, you are receiving the blessing of His Love. Open wide, breathe deeply these waters of life. Allow them to flow into you and they will bring you upon that path to at-onement with your Creator.

The door opens. Are you ready? Do you desire this? Can you open yourselves up to this wondrous Light and blessing? You embark upon a short journey together and we will be with you as you pray, as you converse, as you open yourselves to one another and in this way you will forge the bonds of love which will last my brothers and sisters, for all eternity, a path of Love and discovery, service and joy. God has lit the path, ready for you to follow and we shall walk together, hand in hand, to that place of supreme peace, wondrous joy, and Love Divine.

I am Peter, and I love you, beloved souls. Walk with me. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JESUS

I come, I am Jesus.

I come to bless this place and bless all who dwell within it. I come because you have called me by beseeching the Heavenly Father for His Love. For where His Love is, I am there also, I am His channel of Love, I am His messenger of Love. And I beseech you to follow me. To walk in the Light of this Love which is beyond all other Love, this transformative power will bring all that you require and desire to be in the Grace of God, to be with God, to know God, and to truly know yourselves.

Each soul here has received God's Love within, and each soul here has an invitation to follow this path of Love to bring this truth deep within and to live this truth in their lives as fully as they can, as beautifully as can be expressed, as uniquely as is each soul.

Blessed are those who seek love, blessed are the peacemakers, blessed are those who desire to change this world to something better and purer and more infused with love and harmony. You are needed my beloveds, the world needs you to be examples of Love, harbingers of Love, channels of Love. Walk with me and I will light the way beyond the darkened confusions of the human condition to a place of clarity and true faith and an understanding of the truth. I am with you, I am with you and I shall never leave you, beloveds. I am your brother, Jesus. God bless you. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM AUGUSTINE

Bless you beautiful souls, I am Augustine, once the bishop of Hippo while on Earth. And I played a great part in developing the Church of Christ. And in so doing I encouraged many erroneous beliefs and understandings of Jesus' true message. And so today I work with souls on the Earth and souls in spirit to bring this truth and to bring clarity, the truth of God's Love, which is the message that Jesus brought to the world. This simple truth of Love, the power of it, the redemption of it, the truth that shall set you free, my beloved souls. For once I entered spirit and learned of this truth, I prayed with all my earnestness to receive this Love within and indeed I found the power of this Love and I ascended through the spheres of spirit and entered into the Celestial Kingdom. The blessing of Divine Love is an incremental thing. Each step brings you closer to God, every dollop of this Love brings greater Light to your soul and enlightenment to your being. Yes it takes time, it takes prayers, it takes longing. Prayers that go to your Heavenly Father at any time in any place these prayers can be given. Sent forth on wings of desire to be with your God, your Creator.

And when the awareness of this Love enters your being, when you truly know that God has placed something beautiful within you, then you begin the journey, a journey of transformation, of letting go of all of those things which are not in harmony with this Love, with God's creation, with what you are truly intended to be. For each soul is unique and each soul will come to understand and express its unique qualities which is truly a gift from God. This will flourish, and expand within your being and you will have great joy and a sureness and security of knowing that you are truly loved by God and in this you will truly love yourselves. And in this you will love your brothers and sisters. For each is a beautiful and unique creation. Each is worthy of God's Love, each is beautiful.

So some of you begin your journeys to find this truth to truly know it, and others have been journeying for a great portion of their lives and it is indeed a blessing from God to have this fellowship and encouragement for one another to continue the journey and not fall back into the human conditions which in many ways deny the existence of God and do not foster the openness and awareness of the soul. Fellowship is important, it is a strength that can be shared. It is a way of supporting one another for each has a unique perception and understanding and journey to take and in sharing this with one another, it opens new awarenesses, opportunities for growth, different perspectives open insights into the mind's struggle to make sense of their lives in this world and the meaning that comes with life.

Beloved, beloved souls, Love one another, share with one another your hearts, your dreams and your desires. Open yourselves to God's loving influence that you may enter into the stream of His Love which will carry you, embrace you, enfold you and bring you great peace, wondrous experiences and an opening to the truths of God's glorious creation. Do you not feel God's presence now, beloveds? Drink deep of His Love, drink deep. For each soul here thirsts for this, longs for this and it is at this time here in great abundance waiting to inflow into you and work its miraculous transformative power. And it will bring you joy and peace, comfort and wisdom.

Blessings to you beloveds, blessings from your teacher Augustine who loves you, God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM JAMES PADGETT

God bless you, this is James Padgett.

The vision that this instrument has had regarding this building is correct. There will be a center here that will bring the message of Divine Love to this part of the world and there will be displays of the original messages that came through my mediumship and a center for study because although you do not see this at this time, there will be a great interest in this work and the truth of the Divine Love in years to come. And although you start out small it takes but a spark to start a mighty blaze. Continue to work towards these efforts to understand the truth of Divine Love. Read these books that were written by my hand but not by my mind. And understand the value and the purpose of these writings. Great effort was made to bring these through to the world and they cannot be lost. So I urge you to take these writings seriously. And to bring into this place the truth of this message of Divine Love.

There is much work to do my friends and indeed you worry for the material that is required to sustain this building and I tell you, as you make a commitment to this work and these truths, God will provide what is necessary to sustain this place and as you make a commitment to the truth of God's Love and a true understanding of what it is and make the efforts to receive this great blessing, you will draw many to this place, the hungering souls will be drawn to the Light.

Yes, there are many questions, but I tell you that with faith and commitment, strength within your souls, much will be accomplished and God's Will will manifest in this place and many other places in the world and bring the Light and bring refuge to those that are weary in the world and need the succor of God's great Love.

Listen to your guidance, my friends, for there is a plan and a way to bring this to reality to allow God to manifest this destiny in this place, this Light shining, this breath bringing life to this building. Continue in your prayers and your desire to bring this building alive, to draw in the lost souls, the children and the elders, and all peoples who crave within their souls to know your Heavenly Father. As long as you are open and willing you will be guided. And the doors will open for this to manifest. Walk in Love my brethren, pray for this place, pray for this world, that God will bring the comfort, the great promise of this Love to every soul, both in this world and the next and that you may find a place in this plan for the salvation of mankind.

Great changes are coming, great challenges are coming, but great work as well – as the world changes so the doors of opportunity to bring greater Light and enlightenment to the world are possible. Prepare yourselves, continue in your prayers, walk the Divine Path, walk it with all your heart, all your dedication, all your soul longing and allow God to work through you. And many things will manifest in your lives and in this place.

God bless you, your brother James is with you in your efforts. We continue to work together to bring the truth of God's Love to this world. You are all brave, dedicated, earnest, and have received the Love within your souls. You have what is required. It will not be easy, but the rewards will be great for your efforts. Listen to the voice of God and you will be guided. Thank you. Thank you one and all for your efforts, for your love. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM SERETTA KEM

Beloved souls, I am Seretta Kem. When I was on Earth, I lived in what you call Egypt – many, many generations ago when my country and culture was at its peak, and I have studied the art of healing for a very long time and I walk upon the Divine Path and I inhabit the Celestial Kingdom.

The greatest healing of all is obtained through the inflowing of God's Essence, His Divine Love. For as you heal your souls in this way as God brings His transformative Love into you, then all changes within your being, every cell within your body, all the energies of your spirit, all the aspects of your mind, both material and soul are influenced by this Love. It is truly transformative and powerful.

And when you feel stray emotions rising up from within you, this is the power of God's Love, in its blessing of expiation of the soul; Divine Love cleanses your soul, bringing your soul to a place of Light that is free from the entrapments of the conditions in which you were born in. All souls are born into this human condition and Divine Love will free the souls of mankind from those conditions which mankind has brought upon yourself, through your own choices which are not in harmony with your creation. And your bodies will change and be influenced by this Love.

And I would urge all of you to assist in this changing of the very cellular structure of your bodies, to bring a greater health and strength and comfort of all aspects of your being. You may assist this in your diet and for your natures, your thoughts, and your emotions. It is important to encourage within yourself a diet of positive thoughts. Constructive and clear. This assists you in your daily practices of prayer and what you do with each day, how you encounter others. It does take discipline. It does take effort. And with the foundation of God's Love within your souls, all of these aspects of your being will come into alignment and harmony.

One must always take into account the power of free will, of your choices in your thinking, in what you eat, in how you pray, and how you are in the world. These are all disciplines, and in order to have a life in harmony, these aspects of your beings must be tended to, and choices must be made, and efforts must be made to bring all of you into a harmonious state. And in so doing, the awareness from deep within you, within your souls, will blossom – and more readily come forth within your consciousness. For there are many obstructions within the mind and the body and spirit which often shield and veil the awarenesses of the soul.

I would urge you my beloved, beautiful souls, who are embarking upon this journey to know God, to know His Love, and to know yourselves, that you would make this effort to nurture yourselves in this way. Indeed, God's Love will in time clear all obstructions, but it does indeed work against the human condition which is always conspiring to distract and detract from this burning Love, this burning energy and Love which has the power to change and transform you from within. Your efforts quicken and heighten the effects of this Love and its transforming powers.

And as always the choice is yours, how you walk upon this Earth, how you present yourself to others, how you love yourself, how you are in the world. There are many old habits within each one of you which are not conducive to the flow of love through you and within you and about you, and I would urge you to take a good and honest look at this and to choose Light, harmony, goodness, health, peace and Love.

And we in spirit who have great powers of healing and can, with each day, bring you to a place where you are free of these inhibitions, these obstructions, but would this strengthen you on your journey? It would be gratifying and make many challenges easier, but it would not strengthen your souls, your resolve, and those aspects of your beings which need transformation, and discipline, and efforts which must rise from within you.

You are all on a journey to come to know yourself, your own identity, and to know God. And this is a struggle because the human condition makes it so. And we in spirit do desire to support you, and we do in many ways, in many ways that you are not aware of. Do not take my message as a message that indicates that we do not have care for you, or that we do not care for you and give you the nurturing and guidance and influence of Love, for we do, in great measure. But in partnership with our efforts, your efforts are required and necessary. For we come back again to the power of free will.

How important is that gift? And how necessary it is for you to understand the power of this gift and to choose? God does not give His Love to those who do not choose to receive it. It is your choice. It is your prayer. It is your longing. And as more Love flows into your soul, it brings to your consciousness a greater awareness of that which is not in harmony with this Love. Again you must choose to change, to walk in greater harmony, to be in a greater and higher condition of Love. And to attend to those needs of your bodies which would make greater harmony with this temple that God has placed your souls in.

Yes, life is not easy. There are many, many aspects of life that challenge each one of you, and there are many around you who challenge you, and there is much need in this world, a great need and a desire to draw from you. My brethren, my brothers and sisters, heed my words and understand, you are truly loved. You are truly loved. In the grace, in the beauty, in the peace of God's Love. God bless you.

I am Confucius. It seems that some of my countrymen do not understand the courtesies of prayer and meditation. You must educate them. Tell them of God's Love and how to receive this Love. (Our prayer circle was interrupted by a noisy intruder.)

My two beloved souls, you have journeyed far and you have gathered many together in prayer and you have answered our call, the call of the Master, to do so. And you have found that God will draw those who have eager souls and desires for this Love. And you see that there is a mission, a need in the world for this effort. And within your minds, you may have desired greater numbers, more souls to be drawn, those who know nothing of this Love to come and understand the importance and power of this love and this will come my brethren, this will come. And the journeys will continue and you will come again and again to those who desire for your presence – for greater prayers, for greater love, this is indeed your purpose and a mission and a calling.

And you, my precious souls, have answered this call as well and you have come together with sincerity and honesty, with a desire to be together in Love and to be with God in Love. And I would urge you to come together and seek this in fellowship. And as you share this experience of Love you will create a bond amongst yourselves that will be powerful and will support one another to greater heights of love and fellowship and understanding. Beloved souls, seek God in this way, and you will take a wondrous journey and God will show you the marvels of His Creation, the depths of His Love, the beauty that is all around and all within you. Much to explore and to experience. And to be in that rapturous Love and true soul awareness....It awaits you, my beloveds, it awaits you. It is for the asking and it is for you to open this mighty door of truth and peace and wonderment. God rises you up now, drink deep of this Love. Know that you are loved. And I love you, beautiful souls. I love you.

MESSAGE FROM MARY, MOTHER OF JESUS

I come to tell you about the beauty that is within your souls, beloved children. And when you reach out to those in need, to the children in this world, to the lost souls in this world, you bring a Light into yourselves and you bring a blessing to yourself. As you give Love so shall you receive Love. As you allow yourselves to open in loving ways to one another, to all the children in this world, you will know God's Grace and His blessing.

Yes, this hungry world, this painful world, this burdened world needs those who are strong enough and in the flow of God's Love to bring healing and comfort, to bring Light where there is darkness, to walk in strength and truth, to do this work, to bring this healing touch.

Do not falter, my beloveds, but know that as you walk in this Light, you will do God's work, you will do God's work. Do not falter, but have faith and God will guide you to where you are meant to be and go. And He will fill your souls with His Love. He will fill you with His Love in great abundance. Open yourself to this blessing and know that this is the Way to the Truth and the Light. To true life, life abundance, life filled with joy, life filled with purpose and meaning.

My beloveds, my beloveds, continue with your efforts. Grow in the Love. And know that there is a great work ahead, a great work. Be that channel of Love each day and you will walk in the Grace of God's Love. God bless you, God bless you. I am Mary, and I love you so. God bless you.

MESSAGE FROM ANDREW

I am Andrew. And the two precious souls have returned from their journeys with stories to tell and share, and they embarked upon these journeys with some questions and concerns and intrigue in their minds. And yet passages were opened, care was given, Love brought about many openings within the souls of many whom they met, and God's hand was upon their efforts as they desired to be his channels of Love wherever they went and much was accomplished.

Indeed, to travel from one place to another to another gathering the souls together in prayer and Love, stringing these beautiful pearls, these beautiful souls together in harmony and Love has brought a greater cohesiveness amongst those of you who desire to work together to bring God's Love more clearly into the world. And these journeys will be embarked upon again and again by many of you who sit in this circle. For to string the souls together, to remind them that they are part of a family of God's children of Love, to share with them your wisdom and for them to share with you theirs is a gift. And in this forging of bonds, this stringing of pearls, there will come a great unity, a power in this, a beauty in this, which God can use in the world to bring greater truth.

Each soul desires to be a channel of Love, yet in order to do this there is much to learn and grow, much within the mind and the soul to come into alignment and understanding, to allow God's Will to manifest in clear and powerful ways, and the world is in great need of this, my beloveds, channels of His Love, and for a channel of His Love to have a clear understanding and knowledge of this is a powerful gift to the world. You all stand on the verge of manifesting this in the world. You are all a part of this flow and Love and Plan to bring healing and Light and harmony to this world and God has brought you together to support one another in this, to help one another, to be raised up into greater Light, to help one another to release all that which is inhibiting the flow of this Love to love one another and to learn to love yourselves that you may love all of humanity.

God bless you for your efforts, your prayers, your intentions and the beauty which is each soul present in this circle and the many souls who are connected to you in the world and this constellation of Light which is the beautiful manifestation of God's Love in each soul in this world. Yes, there is a great work ahead. There are many possibilities laid before you and there is time for you to contemplate and integrate the knowledge that you have gleaned over the years from your prayers and your experience with God and your readings of Truth and your efforts to strive for greater Light. Consider this, my beloveds, consider how far you have walked, and in your growth the strengthening of your souls, consider what you have to give to the world through your example, through your wisdom, through the manifestations of your gifts, and all enveloped in the Love of God, the flow of His Love.

God bless you, beautiful souls, pearls beyond price, and we are with you in your efforts and desires to be God's channels of truth and Love and will continue upon this journey with you. Bless you, you are loved, and you are beautiful. God bless you.
