MESSAGES FROM CELESTIAL ANGELS

Title: You Are My Disciple Here

The hearts that mend in this country are burdened, my beloved brother. They are burdened with such pain and grief, anger and sorrow. They are lost and I have sent you, my brother, to be my disciple of Truth in this land so that you may be used to unburden the lost souls and bring hope to many. Yes, beloved, beloved brother, you will be my disciple in this place. You will walk this land in truth and you must be strong. Put aside your doubts; walk in faith.

You have many gifts which you do not yet understand or realize. You must allow God to guide you and I have sent my beloved brother and sister to support you and to show you the way in this work, and the Angels will surround you as you continue in your prayers and service in this land. Although your numbers are few, the power of God's blessing is great. You must allow this flow to come uninhibited and powerfully.

There is so much healing and work to be done here, in this part of the world, beset by strife for so long, so much confusion, so much anger, so much needs to be healed. You have a great task ahead of you, my son. You must unburden yourself and be strong. You are worthy of this task. God has given you wonderful gifts and you recognize the great power of His Love and you will carry this torch to dark places and speak in your humble words and be an example of Love. Your calling begins, my son. God beckons you to work as His channel of Love. Do not turn away, but face fully into the Light and make this promise within your soul, that resides within your soul "Father I am your child of Truth and Love, Father I will serve you in love, Father show me the way" and in this simple prayer you will be guided and you will know, and as you step forward, one step leading to another, there will be an awakening within you, a strengthening, and a cleansing that will lead to many more opportunities to serve as you unburden yourself, my son, as you are clear on the Truth, as you stand up in Truth.

Every soul must face this choice: Shall I be with God and come to know His Will and act upon this knowledge or shall I join the human condition and turn away? You have chosen to turn towards God, my son. You have prayed for this. You have prayed for support and help, and you have received an answer to your prayers and you will continue to receive this support from the Angels as God puts His Hand upon you. Allow the old thinking to fall away and be receptive to God's Will and Truth in your life.

You will come to know a great sense of freedom and joy in this work and others will join you and I will lead the way, beloved son. I will lead the way. Follow me. I am Jesus and I love you. You are my disciple; you are all my disciples of Truth. May God bless every footfall you make in this world and bring sweet peace as you walk in the darkened conditions of this world.

Title: Put Away Your Shield And Your Armor

This is a nation without trust. Every soul, it seems, in this place is fearful and finds it very difficult to trust another. And they do indeed find some comfort in one another building a tentative condition of trust, one to another, but are always weary of betrayal, very sensitive to the smallest innuendo. It is a very difficult condition to overcome. Most of humanity must deal with this suspicion and lack of trust of another, for there are many who would take advantage and bring pain to others. Yet there are many more who long to love, who long to live in a place of peace and trust and love.

Beloved souls, do not take on this condition of suspicion and judgement. Trust in your Heavenly Father. Allow God to guide you to many souls and give them your love whether they mistrust or not it is important to give in this way, and never question whether you are worthy or that God trusts you, for this is the negative condition that makes you hold back as a loving channel in the world. Within each one of you, to some degree, is a weariness of others and I ask you, beloved souls, to put away your shield and your armor, to trust in God who will protect you and will guide you, who will arm you with Love and perception and wisdom, strengthening your soul with His Love, bringing the insights required to navigate the world. You will not be hurt. Only when you join into this condition will you feel that way.

You must rise above, being in the world but not of the world. And in this way you become that beacon of Light, that channel of Love. Yes, you are human and there are parts of you that long for recognition, long to be loved, to be embraced, and to be trusted. But within this human condition, whether it is truthful or not, many are suspicious; many project these errors and fears upon you and this becomes a challenge in the world. Your persistence and consistency, your strength and your unyielding love will break down many barriers, for many observe you, my beloveds. Many look upon you as an example and they in their human condition, their lack of trust and their shield of judgement, they look to see cracks and flaws within you, and we do not ask you to be perfect, my beloveds, but we ask you to be strong and consistent, to set the bar up high for your behaviour, for what you speak and do, to be in alignment with God's Love.

For to take on a leadership role you must act within those parameters of behaviour that are consistent with Love, and Light, and Truth, to be true to what you know and to be true to yourselves, to not compromise in ways that cause hurt and negativity to others. And yes, many project upon you conditions that are not truly a part of you and in this way they hurt themselves. This is not of your concern. Your concern is to be close to God each day, to act in accordance to the truths you know, to be a bright and shining example in this world. It requires strength. It requires discipline within your thinking. It requires self-awareness of your own motivations and fears and condition.

What will break the mantle of error that all mankind carries? How will change come in this world? What is required? It is God's Love, the power of this Love to heal, to transform and change, the power of this beautiful Love to bring you beyond the human condition, elevated above, walking in this Light with your head held high and your intentions always for Love. And with the inflow of God's Love comes the transformation of your thinking, your motivations, for the hurts and fears, errors and judgements, are challenged by this Love. This Love is designed to expel these conditions within you. But the last vestiges of such conditions remain within your material mind, these patterns of thoughts, these erroneous conclusions, these unloving projections upon another. And it is your responsibility to change those patterns of thinking, those old habits, to catch up with the changes within you, to harmonize those parts of your being with the power of the Love.

It is always your choice and your responsibility to walk in the Truth, to be self-aware of your own actions, to not be impetuous in this way of thinking and doing but to be centered in the Love within your soul which will inform your thoughts and your actions. To do God's Will does not mean to indulge in your old human ways and rationalize them in your actions and say this is God's Will. No, my beloveds, you must go within your souls and know from this place and act from this place. This is not easy in this world full of so many conditions brought about by these pains, of generations of mistrust, difficulties and hurtful conditions. No, this is not easy, for often you are unconscious of the influence of these conditions upon your being.

This is why you must be diligent in your prayers, in your efforts to be with God. For it is easier to be with mankind in these conditions than to be with God in his Love and we, who support you and pray for you, put our arms around you, we understand the struggle that you have, for the intensity of these conditions in the world are powerful. It is your mission to confront, to bring love, to do God's Will, to be as pure as you can in your thoughts, and your own condition, to be a channel of Love, to confront the error, to walk in Light, to be an example. And each of you have chosen to be God's instruments in this world, that choice happened long ago even before you incarnated and each of you struggles to acknowledge this choice that you made in your souls. You question yourselves. You look at what is all around you that is not of God and there is a sense of futility.

My beloveds, it is for you to listen, to act, to love, not to formulate the plan for the salvation of mankind. No, my beloveds, when you feel compelled and guided, act upon your guidance; do so in love, that is all that is required of you. Do not try and second-guess God, but stride within that flow that you know, that God is guiding you and all will be well. There will be surprising, wondrous events within your life, invitations, travels, many souls you will encounter. And as you walk upon this Earth you will teach truth through your example, through the Light that you carry, through the purity of your thoughts and actions as you're guided by God.

I do not say these things to reprimand you, my beloveds, only that you become aware of the many conditions that you must deal with each day and I know this causes you a great quandary, a questioning of yourselves. And I say: be of good faith, be strong in the Love, be in this Light and all will fall into place as is meant to be. Have faith in God's plan, His Will, His desire for the best for each one of you, and His desire to utilize the precious jewels that you are in this world, bringing forth many gifts, possibilities, and Love.

The world is a complex place filled with many complex ideas. The truth is not complicated; the truth is simple. Remember this, beloveds, Love will inform the truth, the Truth is an expression of Love. It does not need to be complex or difficult to understand and when one is truly of faith there is no great desire to analyze, merely to act in accordance to the knowing of the soul. Be simple in your ways. Love one another. Walk your truth, and serve wherever you can in loving ways. This is what God desires of you and all of us; to love, to serve, to be close to Him, to walk the Truth, to give whenever you can, in whatever way is appropriate.

Thank you for listening to me. Thank you for being a Light in the world. I love you all dearly. I am Andrew and I am with you often and I am so pleased with your efforts and your attempts to walk in faith and in Love. You will become stronger. You will know from that place within, your life will become simpler, yet what you do will be varied, important, powerful, and require much from you, beloveds. Yet you will be at peace and you will know you are doing God's work. God bless you, beloved souls, who are willing to walk the Divine Path and teach of God's Love. You are loved. You are truly loved. God bless you.

Title: Divine Love Will Change The World, Starting With You

I am Augustine, I was once Bishop of Hippo when I walked this Earth and I am responsible for establishing much of the tenets of your churches. Unfortunately, this does not give me a great deal of satisfaction, for much of what I established and the teachings of the church was incorrect and when I ventured into spirit I realized my great error and now I come back to all of the souls in this world who are willing to listen to teach the truth, the simple truth.

So many wish to complicate the truth, to control it, to have great power, the power to disseminate God's Will to mankind. This is such folly and error. Every soul in this world has the capacity to know God. Every soul in this world can know great love, can understand great truth, for truth is not complicated, beloved souls. When a soul is awakened and able to perceive these truths, these wonderful lessons from God, it becomes simple, your lives become simple, your motivations, and goals, and ambitions, become simple. For when a life is centred on Love, when a life is open to God and comes to know God's Will, which is for each individual, each beautiful soul can be guided by God. When you are able to believe and turn that belief into faith and turn that faith into action your lives will change irrevocably, you will be a child of God, you will know the joy of this relationship, you will come to understand the power, the transformative power, of God's Love, for this essence of God which comes from his soul and conveyed by the Holy Spirit into your soul becomes active within you. Many changes ensue, much within you is cleansed, healed, changed so that this Love may live within you for all eternity.

When the Master Jesus taught of redemption this is what he spoke of, it is the transformative blessing of the Father's Love, it is the Divine Essence coming from the Creator, and it is the Holy Touch that awakens the soul. Every child is worthy of this Touch, from the very lowest to the highest, every child in this world and in the next is worthy of this Love.

It is but a decision and a desire to receive. God gives you the choice. God allows you to turn away if you wish or turn towards this Light. It is your responsibility and your choice which way you wish to go, for God gave you free will, He gave you the blessing of a life, He gave you a soul and it is your soul that will know God, it is your soul that will receive this great benediction, it is your soul that will be transformed and enlightened and expanded by this mighty Touch, this Grace from God, and in this a great awakening ensues a wondrous opening to a world so different from that which the mind perceives. It is a world that only the soul perceives and in this world are wonders, wonders to behold, great awakenings of perception, gifts that lay within the soul dormant will be awakened. You will come to know your true selves, you will come to see what is meant to be in your life, in all life.

God has much to give to every soul who is willing to be saved, and this blessing of Divine Love is unlimited. It goes on for all eternity. So, beautiful souls, it is a choice, it rests with you and your choice, it rests with your efforts to be open, to pray to God whenever you are able and ask to be blessed in this way and if you so desire this, if you so choose this, it will change your life. This is inevitable, for a soul touched by God in this way is never the same, it changes, it opens, it desires more and more it shall receive with each prayer, each longing, and within this great blessing you will be relieved of your burdens, your fears, the great cares of your life. You will be freed from all that besets you now and burdens you.

There is a great ocean of Love which you may bathe within if you but remove your cloak and your armor and come to God as a child filled with longing to be home with your Heavenly Father in this great and beautiful Truth. I am Augustine and I am happy to be with you, to pray with you, to tell you this wonderful story that is true, powerful, and transformative. I hope that within your souls you listen, hear my words, understand the power of these Truths of which I speak.

It is important that your world start to change, to turn towards Love, to be brave enough, to release the error, the anger, the judgements, the fear, and walk in love. What else, I ask you, what else will change this world? It is love. It is love. Love yourselves, love each other, love your brothers and your sisters, and see the world in this way. There is far too much bitterness and hatred and misunderstanding. It is time to cure the problems of this world by going to God, seeking Truth from the source, and applying this to your lives, and allowing His Love to transform you from within. Beloved souls, be at peace and know that God is with you now, in these moments. Open your souls, feel your longing to know God, to be with God, to know this Love. God bless you, beloved souls, I am Augustine and I love you.

Title: You Have Joined A Network of Light

It is Andrew. You have come together and prayed together and in so doing you have joined in a network of Light that shall bring to you many blessings that will entangle you, so to speak, in God's beautiful flow of his blessings to the world. Each time you pray you will benefit from this connection that you made this night. You will find that prayer will be easier, that there will be an opening to God in a deeper way and if you ask for help in your prayers, help to be able to pray, help to come to know this Truth, God will send an angel to you, to help you in this struggle, to rise above the human condition into a place of deep peace and presence of God.

So, my beloveds, you've been given a Gift. I urge you to continue to pursue this, to make some time within your life, within your mind, to think and contemplate, to pray and to be quiet, to reach to God who is ever eager to reach to you. All it requires is some time, some focus, to come to know that soul desire within you and you will receive the answers you are looking for, the powerful blessing of the Father's Love and this, beloveds, will impactful, powerful, glorious. As you open to this Truth and come to know that you are truly loved.

God bless you, beloveds, and thank you for coming together, for listening to our words, for making that effort to be open. May you continue in your pursuit to find God. We will be with you. We will be with you. God bless you, I am Andrew. I love you.

SPIRIT: FRANCIS OF ASSISI

Title: Many Are With You In Your Efforts

Bless you, beloveds. You did well with the gathering for you planted seeds within those souls who attended and I must tell you that there were many spirits with you at that time in which seeds were planted. In this simple way you do God's work. You bring the Truth, you speak the Truth, you pray the Truth, and you sit listening in a circle of Light for God to respond, and indeed God did respond and Touch each soul. It is not for you to determine their fate, their choice, but you, in a loving way, offered the Truth as simply and powerfully as you could. Therefore, you have done God's Will and you need not question your endeavours in any way but to continue to seek inspiration and guidance, to touch the souls you feel drawn to and who are drawn to you and to offer this experience for those who may be interested. Circles of Light, beloveds. Yes, Circles of Light. They form in accordance to God's Will and the desire of others who are drawn. You will be inspired. You will continue to bring together souls who are curious, souls who are longing, souls who desire comfort, souls who desire truth. This will continue.

And my son, when I began my ministry I was shunned. Many turned away from me thinking that I was not right within my mind, but I persisted and I prayed intensely and I sought out God and did not pay much attention to the judgements of others who did not understand and could not understand the true longings of my soul. Only God knows this and only God can respond to this. So even though you may be shunned by others, others may turn away from you, do not lose heart but continue to be persistent and as the Light grows within you and the wisdom grows within you, you will make that connection with others in beautiful ways that will draw them into this Light and Truth. It is your destiny. You feel it; you know it; you have seen it and you will express it but you must continue to grow and to grow into this role as a teacher and a healer. And it is good that you reach out to your brothers and sisters who understand and know the struggles that you face and continue to do so, my beloved brother. Continue, continue to pray and to be steadfast in your truth and God will show you the way as he did me, as he has done many through the ages.

Your work just begins, beloved son, and it will unfold slowly to begin with. You must be patient, trusting in God's Will and timing and all will be well. After all, you have the Angels of Heaven with you in this effort. You have your brothers and sisters on this Earth with you in your efforts. Do not hesitate to reach out for this support and love that surrounds you. You are worthy. You are beautiful. You are loved. And I would suggest that you say these three things to yourself often to counteract these negative thoughts that have been placed within you: you are worthy, you are loved, and you are beautiful, and so you are my son, and so you are. God bless you. I am your friend, Francis, and I am with you often and I love you.

SPIRIT: JEROME

Title: You Are Supported In Your Struggle

I am Jerome. I lived many years ago and now I am an inhabitant of the Celestial Kingdom and I have come to state my commitment to you, my son, to assist you in this work in this land, a land that has been filled with strife and war for many, many centuries.

The conditions within this land are heavy indeed, its earth soaked with blood. The minds of those who inhabit this place are filled with fear and judgement, anger, and yet there are those who wish to break free from these conditions. Those who are young, those who have been educated, those who have ambitions for a better life in this land and in this way they are more open, my brother, to what you have to tell them. You must persist in your efforts. When you feel compelled to move forward in a certain way please do so with the understanding that you are guided and inspired by God.

It is not easy to be the lone man walking the streets with a message of truth. I understand your plight for I too walked the streets with my truth when I lived in this world. And though it is very unlikely you will have my fate, still the arrows of criticism, scorn will come your way. It is hard for mankind to put aside their armor, their error, their anger, and their mistrust, to come to God as you have come to God, my son. This vulnerability, this innocence has been difficult for you as it is for all and you continue to strip away the layers that hold you back from God. And this is painful, this is frustrating as the patterns within your mind continue in their defensive way to shut out the intense feelings that come from your soul. My brother, every leader who is close to God, every teacher of the truth, every soul aspiring to be in harmony with God, confronts these conditions within them, who they are in their ways unique, in many ways they are the same.

Fear, anger, hurt, judgement, anger, fear, confusion; the wounds of a life and for some these wounds go very deep and it is difficult to revisit these places, to acknowledge those feelings of being unloved, to see that others have hurt you, to be alone in this pain. My brother, you are never alone. You are never alone and God will sooth your pain if you but let Him place his Hand upon your wounds, place his Love within your soul, infilling those dark corners, so rarely visited, so buried under your resolve to be strong. And so it is with so many, a resolute stubbornness to carry on in the human condition, to accept their fate, to carry their burdens, to be weighed down by the darkness of this world.

My son, you have chosen differently. You have chosen liberation, truth, love, and this is not easy for it is easy to be blind and mute, walking in this world without thought of something deeper than the material gratifications. This is easier but it comes at a great price and you realize this within your soul. You understand that you must struggle forth into that pure Light and indeed your soul has been touched by the Love of God, continues to grow and in this way it will push out the darkness, and the pain. The wounds must heal but as long as your mind continues to push and repress what must come forth you remain in a deadlock, and a dilemma, in your being that saps your energy, your spiritual Light and this too is a common occurrence amongst those who wish to be cleansed by the Father's Love. This resistance, this denial, and often an accusation that these feelings come from another or from a spirit or from a situation. No, my beloveds, those negative reactions belong to you, those feelings of depression, those feelings of hurt, those difficult thoughts, judgements, they come from you and this is not to say that all of these conditions originated by your actions. No, my beloveds, this is a reflection of the conditions of this world, the conditions of your bloodline, the conditions that were placed within you as innocent children. No, there are many reasons for these encrustations of the soul and errors of the mind.

Nonetheless, no matter the source, it is your responsibility and your struggle to take the actions necessary to cleanse your soul and God's Love begins the process, ignites a great flame that will burn away these encrustations, but it is for you to acknowledge what lay within you. It is for you to be strong enough to look. It is for you to have enough faith to lay these burdens to God and say "Heavenly Father, these are my burdens, this is my cloak of pain, these are the armors of which I don in order to navigate this life and I wish that you would take it all, wipe me clean, dear Father. Make me pure with your Love. Allow me to walk in joy, in strength, in Love, in clarity, in Light". With this prayer you will find your way and there will be a great healing in your being and a joy will grow where there was once tears, and a perception and a shift of perspective will emerge within you bringing forth greater clarity within your mind and an awakening of the mind of your soul.

This is the journey, beloveds. This is what must take place if you are to fulfill that deep purpose that God has placed within you. For without the cleansing and the healing, without your humble recognition that you too are part of the human race and the human condition and you too must struggle for the Light and don the mantle of Truth in the process. One step at a time, beloveds. One step at a time and you will find your liberation, and you will find your destiny and you will walk the path that God has designated for you, beloved souls, as His channels of Love in the world. And each of you is at a different place upon this journey but you are all heading in the same direction and this will lead to many opportunities of service and you will come to know your true destiny, beloved souls, the true being that is you, that at times is smothered by your mind and the conditions of this world, and at times is revealed in prayer, in a service of love.

You will find your way, my son. I will be with you in your efforts. I will help you to release your burdens. I will be by your side as will many other Angels who are eager to support you upon your journey and your mission to bring healing and Love to this place, this part of the world, so downtrodden by so much pain. Go to the churches. Go to the meeting places. Go along the streets. Say your prayers as you walk. Say your prayers as you join in the services of the churches. Continue to be the humble servant of God and do not let the error that you hear uttered by those within those churches inhibit the flow of your love. True humility is acceptance. True humility is adding your love to those who are seeking the Light, however false their beliefs. Each soul is a child of God. Each soul is seeking God and with your presence and your faith you will add your Light to their efforts.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am very happy to be able to speak this day through this instrument. There will be more guidance as time moves on in your journeys. God bless you, I am Jerome. I love you, I am with you and I am with the people of this land, their struggles for Light. God bless you.

Title: Move In The World

So you see the healing waters did heal and then God and His joyful tears blessed you with the rain. And then you met the beautiful soul who was delighted to be with you in conversation and who was touched deeply by your presence. And so it goes as God guides you through your days to be open, to be receptive to this guidance, to be joyful as you walk along your life's path.

So many sit and wait, thinking that God will make manifest His Will without any effort upon their part. This is not true. You must move in the world. You must make your efforts, and make them in love and when you choose love, you choose to serve God. God will bring towards you, as you move towards His Intention, many blessings, many experiences, and many opportunities to serve. But the one who sits and waits is lost. The one who engages in life and engages with God, together this creates the many blessings that will come.

God bless you. I am so happy that you found joy in your day and today you will find more, many surprises are coming. God bless you, beloveds. I am with you. I am with you, joyfully so, this beautiful day. God bless you.

Title: Being In The Light Takes Conscious Effort

It is your teacher Augustine. It appears you have learned a valuable lesson about your thoughts, the importance of keeping your thoughts on the highest, conducting yourselves with integrity, disciplining your emotions. All of these aspects of your character, emanations of your being are very important, regarding how you move in this world as a channel of God's Love. Yes, there are many variables that determine how one behaves, what thoughts one has, the emotional well-being of the individual.

Yes, the conditions of this world, the thought energies of this world which cloud and clog the actions and minds of mankind are powerful indeed and when you choose to engage in these thoughts, conditions, you bring yourself down from the Light and reinforce a darker place. And we in spirit who watch you and watch over you can only wait for you to climb back out of your condition, your negative condition to a place that is more in harmony with God's Love. Yes, we do assist you but we cannot always assist you. We cannot always make that effort that you need to make in order to be in the Light. And indeed when you pray for assistance you receive it. This is the first choice when one feels these heavy conditions and when one seems to be in the thought loop of negativity. Prayer, prayer, my beloveds, is important, crucial, for this opens the possibilities for us to assist you. But I must reiterate, it is that choice you make with each thought and when you allow inner reactivity, strong negative emotions to flow freely within you, you do indeed attract negative energies and forces to you, forces which are all too happy to reinforce these conditions. No, you are not immune, my beloveds. You are not immune to this, but you could be if you but exercise more discipline and more conscious awareness of your thoughts, the patterns of your thinking and more effort in prayer.

This is the most challenging aspect of walking upon the Divine Path, my beloveds, to be in the world but not of the world, to fight against those old patterns that have worn deeply within your consciousness and your being, patterns of thoughts and emotions that governed your state of being in a conscious way. And often this is in conflict with the state of your soul, for your soul is in Light, it continues to engage in its progression, its shedding of conditions that are not in harmony with God's Love. It expands and grows each time you pray to God to receive this Gift of Love and yet through your free will you often place your consciousness within these mindful areas and emotions that are not productive and are counterproductive towards your soul growth.

Each of you must grow to a sort of maturity where you can control these conditions within you in order to be a channel of the highest magnitude, in order for us to use you in powerful ways, in order for God to manifest beautiful healings and touches of Love and comfort to another through you. You must struggle to this place of strength, of discipline and dare I say courage to be able to surmount the human condition, to be strong enough to walk in Light always, to become immune to those negative thoughts, judgements that are tossed your way from others, to feel God's presence with you always, to walk in this Light where we are able to walk with you in close rapport, to set aside those old patterns, to know this joy, this deep joy always.

Is this not a desirable goal, to strive towards this, to make a conscious effort, a conscious willful effort to be in this Light? You have all that is required to be in this Light always. You have been given the gift of God's Love and this Love shines within you. It informs your steps and it will inform your thoughts, your emotions, if you allow it.

Yes, my beloveds, it is time to step ever further forward upon this Path, to walk with maturity, wisdom and strength and to be that powerful, unique, and precious channel of Love in this world. You begin to shed some of your humanness, begin to don the mantle of the celestial being. In this there are transitions and challenges, ways of being that must be adhered to in order to continue the transitional process. God has you well in hand, my beloveds. God will guide you through, strengthen you, continue to pour His Love within you, and now it is for you to listen to the beat of your soul, to go with this powerful beat, this deep knowing, this part of you that is in harmony with God. And we who love you are with you, shall always continue to uphold you upon this journey as you continue to unfold, as your true selves, the wondrous gifts that lie within, the great wisdom that is eager to manifest in every part of you that Love which will bring you great joy, always.

God bless you, beloved souls. Your teacher Augustine is ever by your side and is very pleased with your progress and your progress upon this particular journey in this land so in need of love. Carry on, beloveds. Feel the inspiration of God's breath carry you forward and you will have many joyful experiences and with the joy will come a deep peace in your sleep, a regeneration of your body, a peaceful knowing that you are in God's Hands. How blessed you are to be surrounded by Angels, to be guided by God, to have a soul that is being awakened by the Truth of His Love. How blessed you are, beloveds. Continue to acknowledge this. God bless you. Your teacher Augustine loves you. God bless you.

Title: Will You Walk With God?

I am John. The world is in great need of change. The world hungers for love. The world suffers from the lack of love in mankind. Each of you has a ministry in this world to bring the Love to mankind, to demonstrate and teach the power of God's Love. And each of you has been called by Jesus to be his disciple.

The truth of the good news of the bestowal of the Divine Love must be taught and shared with others. It is crucial to God's plan for the salvation of mankind and it requires your strength, capacity to love, capacity to understand the truth, to demonstrate, to speak, to have compassion for all, to walk this world unencumbered, to be a clear channel of the Father's Love. This you must work towards, my beloved souls. This is so important, that you shed all that is not in harmony with God's Love, that you come to truly know your souls, to truly know God's soul, to be familiar with the flow of His Love and Will in your life, to be strong in your thoughts, to be humble in your actions, to be loving at all times.

We would not ask this of you, beloved souls, if we thought you were incapable of living in the world in this way. But within each of you, within your souls, resides that light that is burning within. Each of you has a great capacity to love and to know God and to speak truth. And so you have been called by the Master to be his disciples, to spread this Truth in the world and when you are ready, when you have committed yourselves fully, when your eyes are open, and your souls awakened, you will move upon this Earth as bright Lights and you will join others who will take up the call to bring the Truth, to bring this Light to the world.

Prayer, beloveds, prayer is so important. Without your time with God, without allowing God to infill your soul with His Love you cannot act as his emissaries of Love and Truth. You must live this Truth with each moment, each breath. You must be receptive to the guidance given, the promptings, the ebbs and flows of the great blessings from God through you to others.

This is how it is done, beloved souls. It is simple but often difficult to enact in your lives as you continue to waffle between the human condition and the divine impetus. But you will find your way and doors will open, Love will flow, souls will flock to you, my beloveds. They will hunger for this Love and when this Love is so powerful within that it cannot be denied, you will truly have fulfilled your purpose to bring this Truth to mankind. But do not take for granted that all this will unfold without your effort and prayer. No, my beloveds, you must make great effort. And you must not allow the negativity to overwhelm you but be confident, steadfast, bold, have faith, and have trust and nothing will harm you.

All that is not in harmony with God's Will, will fall away and you will truly know the joy of service for God and love, the power of God's Will manifesting through you, the beauty of His blessings flowing, flowing unceasing. Your souls desire this, my beloveds. Your souls eagerly anticipate this chapter in your life, filled with surprises, many blessings, purposeful and guided. Days upon days as you allow these blessings to flow. Do not underestimate the power of God's Will and His Love to transform, to heal, to make and bring in harmony all of His creation.

Beloved souls, God's Hand rests upon you. He sends His Angels to be with you and they walk with you always. It is time to face the Light of God's presence fully, to be in humble communion, to allow God to purposefully transform you in His Love, to bring forth the great and wondrous gifts that lie within you, to whisper His intended purpose for you, to walk in this Light. Pray, beloved souls. Pray for this, pray for His Love in all earnestness. Reach that exalted place where His Will and Love flow freely through you and you joyfully accept His purposeful guidance and loving intention to use one of His children as an instrument of His Love and change in the world.

He has seeded your souls, beloveds. He has made your souls come alive with His Love. He has brought every good thing to your soul and your being and this shall continue to flow with ever more intensity. His Touch will become deeper and deeper within you and you will expel that which is not of His Love and absorb all that is of His Love.

Will you walk with God, my beloveds? Will you say to God, "I am ready to make that commitment that you long for me to make"? Will you make this choice, my beloveds, to set aside your own needs so that God may use you in purposeful and unencumbered ways in this world? Are you strong enough? Are you willing enough? Are you humble enough to take this invitation to be God's instruments in this world?

There is nothing to fear and much to gain in acquiescing to God's Will. But to truly understand what God's Will is, your souls must be fully awakened by the Love, your eyes must be opened, you must be attuned to the perceptions and wisdom of your soul and you must allow His Love to flow unencumbered.

How little time there is, my beloveds, for the world is undergoing deep change and God requires those with wisdom and strength, perception and love, to help usher the children into a new consciousness and awareness, more in harmony with His Creation. How much longer can those who know this Truth stand by the sidelines and watch? No, my beloveds, it is time to act, to be in harmony with God's great Will and Plan.

You feel the calling within your souls. You know the truth of this, the power of this and you cannot stand by and be swept away by these changes. You must hold fast, trusting in God, relying upon your faith, the power of your soul's perceptions, listening to God's Will and you will weather any storm. Anything that comes will bypass you and you will be safe. You will stand upon the rock of God's great Will and lead others in this Truth.

Be with God, my beloved children. Come to know God as a constant presence with you and within you, and all will unfold in harmony and in Love. Follow the Light. Be in the Light. Be true to yourselves and to God.

God bless you, beloved souls. I am John and I love you and I am by your side as you continue to seek the truth. God bless you. God bless you

Title: I Will Lead You Upon The Path

God bless you, my beloveds, I am Jesus. The winds of change are blowing, my beloveds. The winds of change are blowing within your souls as the Father's Love flows within so must there be change from within corresponding to this great blessing, beloved souls. And as you continue to allow these changes to manifest within your being, as you accept what God has placed within your souls, as you continue to allow this Love to permeate every part of you, you will be transformed, you will be made into powerful channels of Love in this world.

And, yes, your minds often speculate and wonder and create ideas of what is to be and I tell you, my beloveds, what will be will be within the Will of God and unfold in the timing of God's great Wisdom and Plan. There will be no dramatic shifts of understanding, my beloveds. No, it will come incrementally within the flow of the Father's Love as it continues to change you, beloveds, and create within you a new reality, a new way of seeing the world, a new way of knowing God. And as this transformation continues so will your life transform as you choose differently, as you see differently, as you walk this world as a channel of God's Love. Do not overburden your minds with speculation. Do not allow fear to taint what is pure within you. Do not judge your brothers and sisters. Walk with integrity. Be at peace. Give love to all you meet.

This is what God asks of you, my beloveds. This is what I have taught you and this is the great Path Divine. May your feet ever be firmly on this Path, beloveds, carrying you to many unknown destinations. Doors will open, love will flow, peace will reign within you, joy will be your call each day, the joy of a life lived within the Will of God. You will find your way, beloveds.

Do not worry of things you cannot change or influence, but listen to your guidance and walk that road that God intends for you, my beloveds, and all will be well, all will be well upon this wondrous journey that is your life, that is the gift that God has given you, that is your beautiful soul shining forth in a world of darkness.

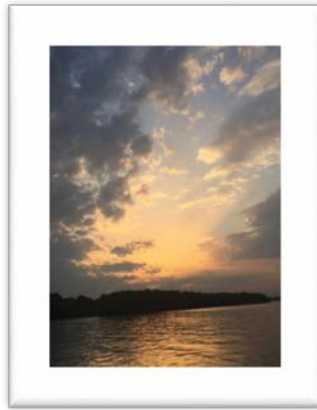

I bless you upon your journey, beloveds. I am with you as you walk, as you continue to pray, and desire to be in the flow of God's Love. I walk with you and I shall never leave you, my beloveds. You are my brothers and sisters. You carry the truth of God's Love in this world and as such you are my disciples.

Carry yourself with this knowledge, with dignity and grace, truth and love, peace and comfort. Walk in this way, beloveds. Do not compromise the Truth but may each day commemorate your love for God. May each day be a reflection of the higher beautiful soul that you are. Do not allow the human condition to enter into this for God needs loving examples in the world to show the other children who are lost a way out of their dilemmas, a way out of their pain, and their confusion, and their fear.

My beloveds, you have chosen this, this mission and I will lead you upon the Path as will many Angels who walk with you, beautiful Angels that surround you always. You will find your way and you will be free of the encumbrances of the human condition. I bless you, my beloveds, and in the Grace of God's Love so shall you go, your footsteps guided, your souls shining with the Love of God. Be at peace, beloveds. Be at peace.

*Heavenly Father
These are my burdens
This is my cloak of pain
These are the armors of which I don
In order to navigate this life
And I wish that You would take it all
Wipe me clean, Dear Father
Make me pure with Your Love
Allow me to walk
In Joy
In Strength
In Love
In Clarity
In Light*

PRAYER FROM JESUS

Father

Open my soul to this Gift... Your Love

Open my soul...

And may Your Holy Spirit

Touch my soul

And pour within it

Your Essence, Your Love

That I may be transformed

That I might be your true child

Embraced and carried

Lit along my life's path

In the glory of Your Light

And care and protection

OUR CELESTIAL GUIDES AND TEACHERS

The messages we received in Serbia were from Angels—Celestial Spirit Guides and Teachers who once lived on Earth...yes, they were human once, and through their soul longings, were transformed from the image of God into Divine spirits by praying to God sincerely for an inflowing of Divine Love. In the summer of 2016, they included:

Jesus of Nazareth, now Master of the Celestial Heavens.

Andrew, Apostle of Jesus of Nazareth.

John the Beloved, Apostle of Jesus of Nazareth.

Augustine, when on Earth, Bishop of Hippo.

Goldie, a wise and joyful Celestial Angel.

Jerome, is recognized as a Saint and Doctor of the Church by the Roman Catholic Church, the Eastern Orthodox Church, the Lutheran Church, and the Anglican Communion. He was martyred.

St. Francis of Assisi, founder of the Franciscan Order.
